TWELVE O'CLOCK M.

FORTIETH CONGRESS.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, July 20, 1868.

SENATE.

A letter from Gen. Dyer, asking trial by court martial for the offences imputed to him in the recent report of the joint Committee on Ordnance, was referred to the Ordnance Committee.

The credentials of F. A. Sawyer and T. J. Robertson, Senators from South Carolina, were presented.

Mr. HOWARD presented a protest from certain members of the South Carolina Legislature against the admission of Mr. Sawyer, charging him with having been engaged in blockade running and being a rebel officeholder, etc.

A motion prevailed to allow Mr. Robertson to be sworn in.

Certain documents containing charges against the loyalty of Mr. Sawyer were then read.

After a lengthy discussion, during which Mr. ROBERTSON, newly inducted Senator from South Carolina, declared the charges against Mr. Sawyer to have originated from the friends of Dr. Mackey, the rival candidate, and were utterly unfounded, and vouched for his Republicanism and ability to take the test oath.

A motion to refer all the papers in Mr. Sawyer's case to the Judiciary Committee was rejected—17 to 27—and he was sworn as a second Senator from South Carolina.

Mr. SHERMAN called for the special order, the motion relating to adjournment.

Mr. HOWE moved a recess from five to seven o'clock.

Mr. SHERMAN opposed holding any evening sessions till the day fixed for adjourned, as until that is done the House cannot proceed with its business, the majority being unable to control the order of business except on Monday, as even two-thirds cannot suspend the rules at any other time until the last ten days of session. Two or three important bills were thus delayed.

Mr. HOWARD'S motion was rejected—22 to 24.

The question of adjournment then came up.

Mr. WILSON offered a substitute for Mr. Sherman's motion, providing for a recess until the fourth Monday in September.

Mr. SUMNER moved to adjourn to Monday the 27th inst.

Mr. HOWE advocated waiting for the veto on the army bill, and a discussion sprung up between him and Mr. Sherman, the latter insisting that adjournment should be fixed for Friday next.

Mr. HENDRICKS denied the statements of Mr. Sherman and others that in his remarks on the army bill yesterday he spoke for the President. He had not seen him for six weeks, and expressed only his own views. He proceeded in denunciation of the bill.

Mr. MORTON denied the arms were to be distributed for political purposes at the South, but for the protection of the State Governments from revolution and destruction, with which they are boldly threatened. They are surrounded by a rebel and hostile population in great part, without an arsenal and not a piece of artillery to protect them, while all their tried and trained soldiers could fall in line to-morrow.

Mr. DRAKE, as the result of investigation he had made, stated there were 250,000 arms in the hands of the Southerners, and argued that as the Southern speakers refused to recognize or submit to the governments there, the latter should be provided with means of defense in case of need.

After further debate the question was taken on Mr. Sumner's amendment for adjournment to-day until the 27th. Agreed to—26 against 19.

The question recurring on Mr. Wilson's amendment, he modified it by providing for a recess until the third Monday in September, when it was adopted—28 to 20.

On motion of Mr. SHERMAN, the Senate non-concurred in the House amendments to the funding bill and ordered a Committee of Conference.

The Senate also non-concurred in the House amendments to the bill making an appropriation for the purchase of Alaska and ordered a Committee of Conference.

The Senate took up the bill to protect the rights of American citizens abroad.

Mr. CONNESS' amendment to strike out the direction to the President to suspend commercial relations with any foreign power arresting or detaining any citizen, was accepted by Mr. Sumner and agreed to.

The question was then on the amendment of the Committee striking out all provisions for retaliatory measures, and simply directing the President in case of a refusal to release naturalized citizens, imprisoned abroad, to report the facts to Congress for its action. It was agreed to by a vote of 30 to 7.

Mr. WILLIAMS then offered a substitute for the third section, making it the duty of the President to demand the release of any American citizens unjustly deprived of liberty. If it shall be delayed or denied he shall use such means, not amounting to war, as he may deem necessary to effect such release.

After discussion by Messrs. Williams, Sumner and Conness an amendment was offered by Mr. BUCKALEW to strike out the third section and add to second, "that it shall be the duty of the President to exercise all his authority under the Constitution and laws for the protection of American citizens abroad, and to impart to Congress from to time any case in which justice is denied to citizens of the United States."

Mr. CONNESS demanded the yeas and nays and the Senate finding itself without a quorum, adjourned.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

F. W. Kellogg was sworn and took his seat as a member from Alabama.

The bill relieving Simon Carley, member elect from South Carolina, also Michael Hahn, of Louisiana, and John Millidge, of Georgia, from legal disabilities, was passed.

A resolution was adopted allowing the Investigating Committee, on the charges against Judge Busteed, to sit during the recess of Congress.

Mr. BROOKS obtained leave of absence till September 17th.

Mr. BROOMALL asked leave to introduce a concurrent resolution relative to final adjournment, but Mr. SPALDING objected.

Mr. STEVENS, Pa., remarked that two or three weeks hence it would be time enough for that.

Mr. CYPHER introduced a joint resolution to aid the repair of the levees of the Mississippi river, and to provide for the payment of citizens of Louisiana for quartermasters stores furnished to the United States.

Mr. STEVENS, rising to a personal explanation relative to the report in the Globe of some remarks of Mr. Garfield and others yesterday, emphatically denied the statement that he said the five-twenties were payable in coin. The report he found was taken from the report of Secretary McCulloch, and was a total perversion of the truth. The words attributed to him were from his speech on the legal tender bill. He cautioned the public against putting faith in the fabrication of demagogues, and they would find every word he had asserted with regard to himself was true and to the letter.

The Missouri contested election case was taken up, the Committee having reported a resolution that Mr. Pile, the sitting member, is entitled to the seat, with a minority resolution offered by Mr. Kerr in favor of Mr. Hogan.

The consideration was interrupted by taking up business on the Speaker's table and disposing thereof as follows:

The Senate amendment to Postal Law bill was non concurred in and a committee of conference asked.

The Senate bill in reference to navy and marine corps was referred to Committee on Naval Affairs.

The Senate amendments to the House bill relating to pensions were non-concurred in, and referred to the Committee on Conference.

The Senate amendments to the Alaska bill were non-concurred in, and a Committee of Conference asked.

The Senate amendment to the House bill providing for the sale of the arsenal grounds at St. Louis and Liberty, Missouri, were concurred in.

The Senate amendment to the House bill for the relief of the Choctaw and Chickasaw Indians was concurred in.

The Senate amendments to the post route bill were concurred in.

The Senate bill regulating the presentation of bills to the President and return of same was referred to the Judiciary Committee.

The Senate bill to incorporate the National Life Insurance Company of the United States was then introduced.

A good deal of objection was made to the bill, Mr. WOOD declaring he would give five million of dollars for this grant, and that it was the biggest scheme before Congress.

The bill passed—yeas 92, nays 59.

To the Senate bill to confirm titles to certain lands in Nebraska

Mr. TAFFE offered an amendment excepting certain described tracts of land. The amendment was agreed to and the bill passed.

The Senate bill to create an additional land district in Minnesota was passed.

The Senate bill to provide for the further issue of temporary loan certificates was referred to the Committee on Ways and Means.

The Senate bill to extend the time for the construction of the Southern Pacific Railroad in California was passed.

The Senate bill to provide a temporary government for the Territory of Wyoming was passed—106 to 50.

Mr. SCHENCK moved an evening session, to continue in the disposal of business on the Speaker's table. Negatived.

It was ordered the House proceed to the business on the Speaker's table at the conclusion of the Missouri and Iowa contested election case.

Adjourned.

The general understanding among members is, that there is some mistake in the announcement made in a message from the President two days ago that he signed the tax bill, and it is now stated that the President has not signed it, but proposes to veto it, because it authorizes the Secretary of the Treasury to appoint Supervisors with power to remove officers appointed by the President, with the consent of the Senate.

GEORGIA.

Fatal Affray at Savannah—Excitement Among the Negroes—Inauguration of Gov. Bullock—Dissolution of the Ashburn Military Commission.

SAVANNAH, July 22.—A difficulty occurred last night in a drinking saloon between Wm. R. Hopkins, Tax Receiver, and Isaac Russell, Deputy Sheriff, resulting in the shooting of Hopkins, killing him instantly. Russell claims he fired in self-defense. The affair caused great excitement among the negroes, who, at the signal of a drum, assembled several hundred strong, with guns and clubs, threatening to lynch Russell and demolish his house. On learning that Russell had been taken to jail they proceeded to attack it, but were dispersed by the police. The excitement has somewhat abated this morning. The prompt obeyance of the signal shows the negroes are fully organized in this city.

ATLANTA, July 22.—R. B. Bullock was inaugurated Governor of Georgia to-day. His address was brief and laudatory of the Republican party, and condemnatory of the President's policy. It says experience has proved the wisdom and justice of conferring suffrage on freedmen. Gen. Meade and staff were present at the ceremony, which passed off quietly. Both Houses have adjourned over till Friday.

It is reported the Military Commission for the trial of the Columbus prisoners will be dissolved to-day, and the prisoners remanded to the civil authorities.

The Military Commission for the trial of the Columbus prisoners was suspended to-day, in compliance with the following order from Gen. Meade:

To Gen. Sibley, President of Commission: Headquarters Third Military District, July 21.—GENERAL: In view of the action of the Legislature to-day and the probable immediate admission of Georgia and cessation of military authority, the Commanding General directs that the Commission of which you are President suspend proceedings in the trial of the prisoners charged with the murder of Ashburn. The prisoners will be retained in custody until further orders.

The Court adjourned until Friday. All the witnesses for the prosecution have left for the North.

The city is crowded with visitors to the Democratic mass meeting.

Outrages in Texas—The Warehouse System—Nominations by the President—Another Proclamation—Case of Surratt—Southern Loyalists in Council.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette]

WASHINGTON, July 22, 1868.

RECONSTRUCTION IN TEXAS.

The Committee on Reconstruction this morning appointed Mr. Paine a sub-committee to examine General Gillem's report. They also appointed a sub-committee to prepare bills, which will be reported to-morrow, providing for a provisional government for Texas, pending the sitting of the Convention. The intention is to put United States troops under the control of the Convention. A brother of Governor Hamilton, of Texas, and several others, say such action is necessary in consequence of numerous outrages on loyal men. Delegates to the Democratic National Convention deny this statement and say they can show the contrary to be the fact.

SOUTHERN LOYALISTS IN COUNCIL.

At a meeting of the Southern Representatives and Union men, held to-day, Hon. W. Whitmore, of South Carolina in the chair, and Captain H. J. Fisher, of Mississippi, Secretary, a committee was appointed to draft resolutions. Gen. Fremont was introduced to the meeting. He expressed deep sympathy for the suffering loyalists of the South, and hoped Congress would not adjourn till full and ample relief had been given to them. Addresses were made by Mr. Mullins of Tennessee and others.

The Committee reported resolutions, which were unanimously adopted, advising Congress, in view of the President's late veto and the Democratic nomination of Blair, to remain in session until after the Presidential election; that Congress ought to legislate immediately for the relief of the loyal people of Virginia, Mississippi and Texas, in such way as to secure to these States loyal State governments, and condemning the President's utterances as subversive of every principle upon which the government is founded and dangerous to the liberties of the people. Dr. Clift, member from Georgia, offered a resolution in favor of the impeachment of the President and pledging the meeting to use their utmost endeavors to prevent the adjournment until articles are presented, which was adopted after some remarks by other members. The meeting adjourned until evening.

At the meeting to-night a Committee was appointed to present the resolutions to the Reconstruction Committee to-morrow. Several speeches were made and measures of relief suggested. Senator Wilson, of Massachusetts, said he had prepared a bill providing that all persons in Mississippi holding public offices shall vacate them. He did not believe it possible for a Conference Committee to reconcile the wide differences that exist between the Senate and the House funding bills.

Regatta at Worcester—Fastest Time Ever Made.

WORCESTER, July 22.—The regatta commenced with great eclat. Thousands of spectators were present and the day favorable. The sun was sufficiently obscured by the clouds to temper the extreme heat, and Lake Quinsigamond was smooth as a mirror. The first race, for Worcester wherries and rowers, two miles, was won by two hundred yards by the Phantom shell, rowed by E. B. Hamilton, in eighteen minutes four seconds. The second race, four oared boats, two miles, was won by the Union with ease, in fourteen minutes fifty-three and a half seconds. The third race was for six oared boats, three miles. Entries: the Ward crew, of Newburgh, the Harvard University crew, the L. H. Powers crew, of Springfield, the North End Bay Crew, of Boston, and the New London Crew. This race caused intense excitement. The Wards and Harvards soon drew to the front and went side by side for half a mile, with the Powers and North Enders a length behind. The New London boat was behind from the start and was never placed by the judges. Tremendous cheering burst from all sides when, at a mile and a quarter, the Ward crew drew two lengths ahead of the Harvard. At this moment the Powers were two lengths behind the Harvards, and the North-End boys were close up with the Powers. They all then disappeared behind a point of land. When they reappeared the Wards led and the Harvards were one length behind. The wildest excitement was manifested by the spectators, and the shrill cries of the collegians were heard above the uproar of the cheers and shouts. In the last one-half mile both crews bent to oars with renewed vigor. The Wards passed the first line, winning the race in the shortest time ever made, viz: seventeen minutes and forty and a half seconds. The Harvards were two lengths behind, and though they stopped rowing they were timed seventeen minutes and fifty-three seconds. The Powers, third, came in in eighteen minutes and twenty-six seconds, and the North Enders, fourth, in twenty-one minutes and fifty-three seconds.

CITY AND SUBURBAN.

Alleged Wife Poisoning—The Accused Arrested.

Yesterday officers Moon and Irwin of Mayor Blackmore's police, received a requisition from Justice J. B. Mills of Columbiana, Ohio, for the arrest of Daniel Shutt, charged with poisoning his wife, and who was supposed to be lurking in this vicinity. It is alleged that Shutt, who was formerly a resident of Lawrenceville, moved his family, consisting of himself, wife and two children, to Columbiana, about sixty miles from Pittsburgh. Some time during the latter part of last June he had the life of his matrimonial partner, Mrs. Margaret L. Shutt, insured in a New York Life Insurance Company for five thousand dollars. On the 4th of July the lady suddenly became ill. A physician was called in, but despite all the exertions of medical skill she grew worse rapidly, and after a week of intense suffering death came to her relief. The body was brought back to Sewickley, where all the friends of the deceased reside, and interred about a week ago. The mother of Mrs. Shutt, Mrs. M'Stevenson, thinking there was something wrong in the affair, made some investigations, the result of which caused her to make the information against Shutt, before Justice Mills, charging him with poisoning his wife for the purpose of obtaining the insurance money. The officers arrested the accused in a saloon in the Allegheny Diamond last evening, about half-past seven o'clock, and conveyed him to the lockup. Officer Irwin started back with him to Columbiana on the two o'clock train this morning.

Dullness of Trade—An Embezzler.

Mr. Jones keeps a grocery store on Wylie street, which has always enjoyed a pretty good run of custom, but either from the dullness of trade or some other equally powerful cause, the receipts for the past week had fallen off considerably. It seems that Mr. Jones has been away for a couple of weeks, and the establishment during that time has been carried on by a clerk, whose duty it was to turn over to Mrs. Jones every evening the amount of the day's sales. The second week of the proprietor's absence Mrs. Jones alleges that the cash handed to her showed a great deficiency, but the clerk explained that trade was remarkably dull. On Tuesday evening he closed the store as usual and retired to his room, but not to sleep, as was apparent next morning when the room was entered and found to be vacant, the downy couch looking as though it had not been slept on. A further examination revealed the mysterious disappearance of one hundred and fifty dollars from a dressing bureau drawer, which, associated with the absence of the clerk, naturally led Mrs. Jones to think that he perhaps knew something about it, and accordingly she repaired to the Mayor's office and made an information for larceny against him. It was suspected that he had started East, and late in the day these suspicions were confirmed by a dispatch from the Mayor of Harrisburg, stating that he had been arrested in that city. Chief of Police Green went last evening to bring the fugitive back.

Robbing the Mail.

Some designing scoundrel on last Saturday evening broke open the postoffice box located at the corner of Craig and Robinson street, First ward, Allegheny. Mr. Wesley McKelvey, the carrier, visited the box Saturday afternoon, and it is not known whether any mail matter was put into it after that hour, but whatever was there fell into the hands of the thief. It would seem from appearances that the lock of the box was knocked clear from its fastenings by a violent blow with some hard substance. The design of the operator was undoubtedly to obtain possession of the lock, as no trace of it could be found, It is well known that a key which will open one will open all of the boxes in the United States, as they are all made after the same pattern. The thief, by securing the lock, can have a duplicate key made, and thus be enabled to carry on his work in other localities without fear of detection, which seems to have been the idea he had in view. A reward of twenty dollars has been offered by Postmaster M'Kelvy, for the arrest of the perpetrator or any information leading thereto. United States detectives are at work, and as they are all shrewd hands at the business, perhaps they will succeed in working up the case.

An Escaped Prisoner Caught.

The Erie Express train brought to the city yesterday morning a fugitive from justice, named Jacob Hoyle, in charge of Sheriff Walter, of Somerset county. It seems that some two years since Hoyle was sentenced to the Somerset jail for six months for fornication and bastardy. After remaining in the institution about twenty-two days he made his escape, and had eluded the vigilance of detectives until Tuesday last, when he was arrested in Hilltown, Pa., by Sheriff Walter. He says he has only been a short time in Hilltown, the rest of the time since his escape being passed in Wheeling, Wellsburg, and in Ohio towns. We understand that there is an indictment for murder pending against him in the Somerset Court, and another for a lighter offense. The Sheriff started on with him yesterday afternoon.

A Strange Case.

Louis Benham made information yesterday before Alderman McMasters against George Schenafelt for false pretences. Benham's (who is an undertaker) story is that Schenafelt came to his establishment and stated that his child was dead and he wanted him to attend to the arrangements for the funeral. He also stated that a merchant on Liberty street, in whose employ he was, owed him $350, which he would collect on Saturday night and pay the bill. Under these circumstances Benham furnished all that was necessary for the funeral, including carriages and a lot in the grave yard, the expenses of which amounted to $76. When called upon to settle up Schenafelt was short of funds and upon inquiry it was ascertained that his former representations were false. A warrant was issued.

Serious Accident—Leg Amputated.

About six o'clock last evening a serious accident occurred on the Panhandle Railroad, at the corner of Fourth and Try streets, by which Jimmy Dolan, a little boy between six and seven years of age, had his right leg terribly crushed and his left foot seriously injured. It appears that the boy attempted to climb upon a car of a freight train, when he slipped and fell, and the wheels of the car passed over his right leg below the knee, crushing it so as to render amputation necessary, and also over the left foot. He was carried to the residence of his parents on the Fourth street road, and Dr. M'Cook sent for, who amputated the right leg below the knee, and the toes of the left foot.

CRADLE SONG.

All by the side of the wide wild river
Surging sad through the sodden land.
There be the black reeds washing together—
Washing together in rain and sand;
Going, blowing, flowing together—
Rough are the winds, and the tide runs high—
Hush little babe, in thy silken cradle—
Lull lull, lull lull, lull lullaby!

Father is riding home, little baby,
Riding home through the wind and rain;
Flinty hoofs on the flag-stones beating
Thrum like a flail on the golden grain.
All in the wild, wet weeds of the lowlands,
Dashed and splashed by the freezing foam—
There be the blood-red wings of the starlings
Shining to light him and lead him home.

Spurring hard o'er the grass-gray ridges—
Slacking rein in the low wet laud,
Where be the black reeds washing together—
Washing together in rain and sand;
Down of the yellow-throated creeper—
Plumes of the woodcock, green and black—
Boughs of salix, and combs of honey—
These be the gifts he is bearing back.

Yester morning four sweet ground doves
Sung so gay to their nest in the wall—
Oh, by the moaning, and oh, by the drowning,
The wild, wild water is over them all!
Come, oh, morning, come with thy roses,
Flame like a burning bush in the sky—
Hush, little babe, in thy silken cradle—
Lull lull, lull lull, lull lullaby!

Paris is full of these creatures, and Codfishe de Shawdy and all his relations are doing their best to render us a laughing stock and a by-word to the old world.

WALL STREET had a genuine sensation the other day worthy of a place in a novel. C. W. White & Co. was the name of a firm that made its appearance on the street only a few weeks ago, and which did a business in stock by jobbing what are known as "odd lots," or "small lots,"—that is lots represented by certificates of less than 100 shares, or any number of shares not in even hundreds. Their manner of proceeding was to purchase certificates of five shares each and skilfully change them by erasing the word five with lemon juice or some similar acid, and writing in its place the words one hundred; also by erasing the figure five and substituting for it the figures one hundred. Each of the certificates was worth a little more than five hundred dollars before the forgery; after the easy work of two minutes upon it, each of them became saleable for more than ten thousand dollars. After selling out their forged certificates for cash, the next morning saw the office empty with the announcement—"Closed in consequence of the death of Mr. White." That gentleman will probably find a resurrection in Paris or elsewhere abroad, as he invested his gains in gold coin before departing this life in Wall street. But the most singular circumstance was the panic with which speculative shares were affected when the forgery became known, as it was yet impossible to tell how far the fraud extended. The whole amount of the frauds was less than $300,000. The whole amount of the depression of shares which resulted from the terror thus excited, amounted, at the lowest quotations made, to about $10,000,000! The indirect injury to property was more than fifty times the amount stolen.

THE Historical Bureau of Prussia has worked out some interesting facts in reference to gambling in grain. The data are collected for a period of seventeen years, to-wit: from 1850 to 1867. The average amount of grain sold at the Berlin Bourse is about two million wispels, but the amount of grain actually traded in is only about one hundred thousand wispels. A wispel contains twenty-four sheffels, and a Prussian sheffel is about one and one-half bushels. The proportion of the grain gambling to the actual grain sold, is as one to twenty, so that nineteen out of twenty bushels are speculative transactions. About 200 houses are engaged in the grain business, of which 100 never own a bushel of grain, and all their purchases and sales are merely on paper. About 140 deal in grain, but even of those many of them do a far greater business on paper than in the grain itself.

SECURITY AND COMFORT FOR THE TRAVELING COMMUNITY.
J. B. HARRIS' SAFETY FIRE JACKET,
Car Heater and Moderator,
For SMOKE AND HOT AIR FLUES, dispensing with the use of Stoves and Fires in or about the Passenger or Baggage Cars, with the attachment to graduate the heat to any temperature that may be desired without the possibility of firing the car or cars to which the Jacket may be attached.
Having obtained of the United States Letters Patent for a Safety Jacket which is warranted to resist the most intense heat that may be applied to it in the position and purpose for which it is intended. It is a sure protection from accidents by fire, originating from defective flues, or where iron pipes are used as conductors for smoke or heat. It is applicable to all piping that may become overheated, and is warranted to give perfect satisfaction where wood or other combustible material may be placed in close proximity thereto. I am now ready to apply my invention to stores, dwellings, factories, ships, steamboats, railroad cars, &c., wherever pipes as conductors are made dangerous by being overheated and security desired. I will sell, on application, rights to manufacture or to use the above invention; also, territorial rights, to such as may wish to engage in selling privileges, either by State or county.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, }
WEDNESDAY, July 22, 1868. }

CRUDE—The market continues very quiet, and notwithstanding the demand is light, there is no disposition on the part of buyers as yet to make concessions in order to effect sales. Spot oil is still held pretty firmly at 14, while future months, sellers option, cannot be quoted above 13½. Sales in lots of 2,000 bbls on spot at 14; and 1,000 each October and November at 13¼. Sellers option for the last five months or all the year. is quoted at 12½; no price named, buyer's option, same delivery, and so far as we can learn, little or none offering. In regard to the production, the latest advices report between eleven and twelve thousand barrels daily, and increasing with a very large number of wells being put down. This, if correct brings the yield about up to where it was a year ago, though it should be borne in mind that the exports are much larger than they were up to this time last year, and from this it is fair to infer that the stocks on hand in this country, are not in excess of this time last year, and that the export demand is considerably larger.

REFINED—The market for bonded oil is also very quiet and a little dull, and if anything prices are a shade lower. For example spot oil sold at 33½ which is a decline of a full cent, compared with last Friday and Saturday. August was offered at 34½, without finding takers, and this, also, is a decline of a cent. Sales of 500 bbls for November at 34½. August to December is nominal at 34 to 34½.

ARRIVALS—The arrivals of oil reported to-day were as follows:

RIVER NEWS.

We had several heavy showers of rain yesterday forenoon, which, for a time, cooled the atmosphere considerably, but towards evening it became close and sultry, with every appearance of more rain. It is not to be expected, of course, that all the rain that fell yesterday will have any effect on the river, but we are safe in saying that it was of inestimable value to corn and potatoes, and vegetation generally.

Captain Ed. Evans, of the Westmoreland, is now at home, and will probably remain here for some time, as he has placed his boat in summer quarters at Cincinnati. Captain E. reports having made five round trips between Cincinnati and New Orleans during the past season.

The river fell about four inches during Tuesday night and yesterday.

Capt. Robt. Robinson, of the Kate Robinson, is giving his whole time and attention to the Hoboken Land Company.

—The Fairy Queen left Jacksonport for New Orleans, the other day, with a cargo including 1,200 chickens.

—Minneapolis and St. Paul, Minn., are rival towns. The Minneapolis Tribune says the levee at St. Paul has been turned into a race course.

—Boats in port at Little Rock the 17th were the Van Buren, Peerless, American and Hamilton. The Fort Smith was reported to be aground above.

—The little steamer J. L. Graham was sold at Louisville on Saturday to Messrs. Nat. Williamson, Robt. King and James Humphreys for $4,000. She is to run between Madison and Louisville.

—A party of professional light-fingered gentry practiced on Mr. John Hugh Smith, of Nashville, and some gentleman from Georgia, to the extent of several hundred dollars, Saturday night, on board the mailboat between Cincinnati and Louisville.

—We clip the following items from the St. Louis Democrat, of Tuesday: The Galatea has left these waters. She sailed on Saturday for Lexington, and the boats which met her report her going along like a scared wolf. She enters the coal trade on the Missouri. The Importer was towed from the wharf yesterday, not to Carondelet. The steamer is to be lengthened a dozen feet or so. Capt. Williams returned from Pittsburgh on Friday.

We clip the following from the Cincinnati Gazette, of Tuesday: In the police court yesterday, the case of Chas. S. Devine, a licensed Cincinnati and St. Louis pilot of eleven years' standing, who was arrested on Saturday, charged with the seduction of a young lady passenger on the steamer Charmer, was called and continued till Thursday. The lady is still at the Galt House. She is a sister-in-law to one of the owners of the boat, and is 16 or 17 years old.

—The Cincinnati Enquirer of Tuesday says: The contract for clearing the river between there and Louisville of obstructions, has been given to parties in Pittsburgh, and the tow-boat Zebra, with two flats furnished with grabs and all the necessary machinery for removing snags, sunken boats, &c., arrived here Sunday, from that city, and will be employed in doing the work. The work is done under an act of Congress authorizing the survey of the Ohio, and is under the general superintendence of Mr. Milner Roberts. The operations of the Zebra will be under the immediate supervision of Captain C. J. Caffray, a Louisville steamboat man and pilot of thirty years experience. He will commence operations to day by removing a big log in the river just below the Mail-boat landing.

MEDICAL.

A GREAT CURE OF ASTHMA.

I feel myself under obligations to you, as well as a duty I owe to others who have been like sufferers with myself, in order that they may know where they can get cured. I had been subject to violent, continued attacks of ASTHMA for more than six years, and had been to great expense and to various medical men of experience without obtaining any permanent relief, or relieved at all. I was so bad that I never knew what it was to be free from the disease. I had to sit up in bed every night for weeks and weeks, without any prospect or hope of cure. My condition was such that I felt life a burthen, and when I got an attack I felt in danger of suffocating every moment. So terrible had been my suffering that my mother says that she has seen me so near suffocation that I was nearly black in the face from the desperate efforts made to get breath. In the cold winter nights, many a night, with the doors and windows of the house thrown wide open, in order to hinder the apparent danger of strangulation. In this condition, on the 13th of October, 1866, having heard of DR. KEYSER'S skill in curing this disease, I called on him, in company with my husband, Joseph Meyers, but I must confess with a great deal of doubt as to effecting a permanent cure. DR. KEYSER examined me carefully, and my lungs all over, with his LUNG SOUND, and told me that with care I would get well. I persevered with his medicines for over a year, and am to-day in vigorous health, and totally FREE FROM THE ASTHMA, and its terribly disagreeable attendants. I have had, once in a while, a slight attack of the disease, but I regard my health as entirely re established, and if I do have any attack, a few doses of the Doctor's medicine immediately relieved. I cannot feel too thankful for the exemption from a disease which used to cost me whole weeks and months of loss of sleep, besides suffering which none but those who are subject to this disease can fully appreciate or describe.

NANCY MEYERS,
MARY MOUNT JOY, (her mother,)
GEORGIANA FISHER.

Birmingham, Dec. 9, 1867.

The case of Mrs. Meyers, recited above, is one of more than ordinary importance, because of the violence of the attacks, their continued length, and the great prostration of all the vital powers attending the disease. Any one who knew her during the time she was a sufferer from the disease of which she was cured, and will look at her now, the very picture of robust health, cannot but admit that the cure is one of more than ordinary character. Inasmuch as we hear of Asthma every day of our lives, being a disease of an incurable nature. Let those who doubt investigate for themselves.

Deafness, Hard Hearing, Discharges from the Ear, Polypus of the Ear, Catarrh, Ozena, Blind Eyes, Inflamed Eyes, and every species of Sore Eyes and Ears successfully Treated by Dr. Keyser, No. 120 Penn Street.

SIGHT RESTORED.

The case to which we alluded some weeks ago, of Christiana Fisher, of Beaver county, is now entirely confirmed by the appearance of Miss Fisher herself, who to-day called on DR. KEYSER in person, to thank him for his kindness and skill in restoring her to ENTIRE AND PERFECT SIGHT. Miss Fisher has been nearly blind for four months. She was so blind that she could not distinguish any object so as to make out what it was. The case is remarkable, as hundreds of cases like her's are doomed to never ending darkness, on the flimsy pretext that there is no cure, and nothing can be done. She was under DR. KEYSER'S treatment for two months, and before she applied to him, through her brother, Simon P. Fisher, slight hopes were entertained of her ever getting her sight. Her case is well known in the neighborhood where she resides, and has been regarded as one of extraordinary recovery. We, the undersigned, know of the cure of Miss Fisher, and bear willing testimony to the fact above stated.

SIMON P. FISHER, (brother,)

September 18th, 1867.

The case above referred to was entirely cured by medicines to purify the blood, and it is witnessed by scores of persons who have known Miss Fisher, and have a knowledge of her total restoration to health and the recovery of her sight, as the accompanying letter of her brother sets forth:

DR. KEYSER: This is the list of names that I have to your advertisement of the cure of my sister, Christiana Fisher. They were all willing to put their names down, and were very much astonished to see that you brought her sight so soon. My mother sends her thanks to you; she says "you are one of the greatest men in the world." She says if we had not come across you she believes her child would not be living at this time. We all join in sending our love and respects to you.

PULMONARY CONSUMPTION, RESULTING FROM PLEURISY, CURED.

Statement of GEORGE FORD, carpenter, of No. 16 Sampson street, Allegheny City:

I took a violent attack of pleurisy, in May, 1866, which left me with a cough lasting all summer, wearing away my strength and gradually undermining my health. During this attack of pleurisy I had several physicians of the highest reputation in the city. After I had partially recovered from the pleurisy, I was advised to go into the country, which I did, and when there I called in a doctor, who told me my left lung was affected, and that if something were not done soon I would die of CONSUMPTION. I lingered on from this time until about the middle of June, my cough and lung disease gradually growing worse, and I weaker every day, and almost despairing of ever getting well. In this state of despondency, and knowing the general belief of the incurability of Consumption, and having heard of cures made by DR. KEYSER, and seeing his advertisement in the newspapers, I was induced in October last to call on the Doctor at his office, 120 Penn street, and had him examine my lungs with his "LUNG SOUND." He told me the upper lobe of my left lung was very much diseased, but he thought with great care and the perseverance in the use of his medicine, I would get well. At the time I called on Dr. Keyser my pulse was over one hundred and thirty beats in a minute, and I was generally prostrated, and had to cough night and day. I commenced the Doctor's treatment in October, with a feeble, broken constitution, and continued it faithfully until the present time. The Doctor's medicines helped me from the very start, and I could gradually feel myself getting stronger, and my cough and expectoration lessening. I have gained greatly in flesh, and consider myself well; all the rattling of my lung has ceased, and my general health is in every way good. All my relatives and friends know of the advanced stage of my disease and my extraordinary recovery. One of the medicines given me by DR. KEYSER was a medicine called LUNG CURE, which I took in connection with the other treatment.

GEORGE FORD.

PITTSBURGH, March 30, 1868.

ANOTHER CURE OF CONSUMPTION.

Statement of John G. Wigham, of Turtle Creek, Allegheny county:

I was discharged from the United States army in January, 1866, on account of a wound in the head, from a shell, and a disease which the army physicians pronounced CONSUMPTION. I had a terrible cough, and fell away in strength and flesh, and was unable to do anything. Shortly after my return from the army, I made application to a physician of my neighborhood, and afterwards to another in Pittsburgh of high reputation, whose remedies I used faithfully for five months, without any benefit whatever, but rather grew worse, and wasted in flesh and strength every day. In August, 1866, my mother took me to DR. KEYSER, of 120 Penn street, whose skill in such cases like mine had been highly spoken of, and put myself under his treatment. The Doctor examined my lungs very carefully with his LUNG SOUND, and told me that my left lung was badly diseased at the upper part, but if I was careful he thought he could cure me by following his directions closely, which I did from that day to this. I gradually improved under DR. KEYSER'S medicines from the first week I commenced to take them, and my general health has improved, and my chest, where it was sunken away, and where it pained me, has become full and strong, and free from pain. I can now do a full day's work, and take great pleasure in giving my testimony in favor of DR. KEYSER'S treatment and medicines.

PITTSBURGH GAZETTE FOR THE CAMPAIGN.

The Presidential fight having now fairly begun, and the newspaper press being one of the best weapons for effectual warfare, we propose to furnish the GAZETTE for the Campaign at the very low rate of 40 cents per copy for the WEEKLY, and $2 for the DAILY, from now to the close of the Presidential election.

The GAZETTE has been an earnest, consistent and efficient advocate of Republican principles, from the start, and it is therefore all the better qualified to present Republican arguments now, in this decisive contest, which must settle conclusively whether the nation shall go back to the old domination of slavery and the slave power, or go forward to the full fruition of the results accomplished by the war.

The old Southern politicians, galvanized into new life by the Democratic nominations at New York, unhesitatingly avow that all the Confederacy fought for is to be gained in the election of Seymour and Blair, and that secession is not dead, but is to be fully and finally triumphant in the success of the Democratic candidates.

It has also been plainly given out, by the Democratic candidate for Vice President, that the Democracy, if successful this fall, intend to overturn by force the State Governments established by the people of the South, thus giving notice in advance of another war, and the Democratic Convention, in nominating him for the Vice Presidency, gave the emphatic endorsement of the party to the incendiary and revolutionary threat.

Shall what the Confederacy fought for, and failed to attain, be now attained through Seymour's success? Shall secession, overturned and defeated in the field, be allowed to triumph at the polls? Shall the Democracy, under the lead of Seymour and Blair, be permitted to inaugurate a new Rebellion?

If not, it behooves the Republicans of Western Pennsylvania to labor with an earnestness and zeal befitting the perils of the hour: and one of the surest ways of meeting the enemy successfully is to circulate Republican papers freely, and put them into the hands of all who are willing to read them.

To this end we offer the GAZETTE at a very low rate for the campaign. There are very few men who cannot afford to give forty cents to aid the good cause by circulating a good Republican paper.

Try it, friends, try it for your neighbors. There is scarcely a neighborhood in the country in which from ten to twenty more weekly papers cannot be distributed to advantage; and a few thousand weekly papers read carefully from now to the election will do more good than tens of thousands of Congressional speeches.

WE PRINT on the inside pages of this morning's GAZETTE: Second page: Ephemeris, Wall Street Sensation. Third and Sixth pages, Commercial and River News. Seventh page, Notes of Summer Travel by a GAZETTE Correspondent, &c.

GOLD closed yesterday in New York at 143⅜@143½.

THE letters of "S," two of which may be found an another page, promise to give to our readers very interesting notes of New England travel. The writer, a very prominent and much honored citizen of Pittsburgh, chooses to preserve his incognito, or we should be able to mention a very familiar name to hosts of friends.

THE Indiana Democracy are intensely dissatisfied with BLAIR's nomination, especially in the Sixth District, which he canvassed in 1864, for NELSON and against VOORHEES. It was during that canvass that he denounced the Democratic party as hell-hounds. Naturally, they fail to see the amazing grace which has changed their reviler into their leader.

AN EXCHANGE says: Don't advertise, it's a bad plan. It will call attention to your place of business, and it is much better for people who wish to trade with you to hunt you up. It gives your customers exercise and makes them healthy. Besides, if you advertise, somebody will buy your goods, and then you will have to get more, and it will be a bother to you. If you have property to sell by auction or private sale, don't advertise it, or the crowd of purchasers might dirty the door step, or soil your carpet.

TALK OF SEYMOUR's popularity at home! Why, his party were beaten by nearly 30,000 majority in 1863, although he had 10,000 majority the year before. In 1864, after his exceedingly discreditable opposition to the draft, not even the help of his "friends," the rioters, and asylum-burners who made up the blood-thirsty mob of New York, could save him from being beaten by FENTON, by a majority larger even than that of LINCOLN over MCCLELLAN. SEYMOUR has been five times a candidate before the people of his State and three times rejected, every time, whether elected or defeated, running behind his ticket. Truly, that is an immense exhibition of his local strength as a candidate. We shall have some more of it in November.

THE COALITION COMPLETE.

What little is left of the "Labor Reform" organization, in this county, yesterday threw itself into the arms of the Democratic party. As all the Republicans had previously left the concern, this was simply the return to the fold of the Democrats who, last year, went into a third party organization.

It was melancholy to witness the coldness of this reunion. There was nothing hearty, manly or inspiring about it. The delegates, all told, to the "Labor Reform" Convention, numbered but twenty-two, every one of whom was self-appointed, representing themselves and no one else; while the attendance at the Democratic Convention was exceedingly slim, and betokened anything but zeal or heartiness in the purpose to be accomplished.

The whole thing had been cooked up a week before, by committees representing the two parties, and those who came together, yesterday, came simply to register the bargain made for them by others.

As might have been expected, no one took any interest in the occasion. The attendance inside the bar at the "Labor Reform" Convention was so slim as to provoke general laughter, whilst outside the bar the presence of some seven or eight spectators, only served to render the affair as dismal as it was ludicrous.

The old stagers in the Democratic party appear to have kept their hands out of the concern. The country delegates, under an access of wisdom unusual with them, stayed at home to gather in the hay and oats, and left the small fry of the two cities to worry through the programme. It was plain that the party, as a party, cared very little as to who was nominated, or what was done. If there had been any hope of success from the coalition, it would have been inaugurated under far different auspices.

The bargain made was simply to divide the nominations between the two organizations. The "Labor Reform" men get the Congressman, three Assemblymen, the Commissioner and County Surveyor, and the Democrats get the Senator, three Assemblymen and the rest of the ticket. The nominations made are of the weakest kind. They carry no weight with them, and the ticket bears on its face, from the start, the sardonic grin of death.

The whole thing was what is popularly known as a "fizzle." It had none of the elements of success in it. There was no enthusiasm, zeal or earnestness in any of the performers, each of them acting as if conscious of enacting a broad farce. If they did not laugh themselves, they knew everybody else was laughing at them.

Two fractions of parties are thus united into a faction. It simplifies the contest, but does not change the aspect of affairs. The coalition ticket will poll the Democratic vote, and nothing more. The Republican workingmen learned, some time since, that the third party was got up solely to aid the Democracy, and now that it is merged in the Democratic organization, they feel themselves absolved from all obligations to it, and will henceforth vote with their Republican friends.

The nomination of Mr. BURT for Congress, on this coalition ticket, may satisfy his thirst for notoriety, but can never gratify his ambition. He cannot be elected to Congress on the Democratic ticket from this Congressional district. General SWEITZER, two years ago, got many more Republican votes than Mr. BURT can possibly get, and was badly beaten—so badly that he yesterday declined to repeat the experiment. If there had been any chance of success, this time, he would not so willingly have resigned the position. You never catch a Democrat declining a place there is any chance of attaining.

ILLUSIVE EXPECTATIONS.

The Democratic scheme, for the forcible restitution of their forfeited rights to the white rebel aristocracy of the lately slaveholding States, contemplates that the Presidential elections in those States shall be decided by white votes alone, and that the three unreconstructed States of Virginia, Mississippi and Texas shall have the same right of participation in the electoral vote, as the other seven States which have loyally submitted themselves to the requirements of the Federal authority.

In the former States, this scheme can only be put into practice by the connivance of the military authorities. It will be the duty of the provisional civil governments, respectively, to declare the illegality of any such elections, and to warn their citizens against such attempts to disregard the authority of the State or of the Nation. They will be admonished to abstain from any illegal proceedings, in the nature of assemblages to open polls, to receive votes, to canvass results, or of meetings of any Electors so chosen, or any other overt acts in that connection, feigning a semblance to the forms of a legal and valid election. If these warnings be disregarded, the civil authority will be exercised to suppress such unlawful gatherings, and military power is at hand to sustain that authority if called for. Whether the call, if made, will be heeded, depends much on the President, but quite as much on General GRANT. All orders must pass through the General's office, and no orders, in contravention of Federal legislation, will be promulgated.

In the seven States now reconstructed the civil authority is in loyal hands, and may safely be trusted to maintain itself against any unlawful demonstrations in the interests of this or any other rebel scheme. Here too, if need be, the Federal military power will be invoked, and will be found ample for the purposes of enforcing obedience and of repressing any illegal operations.

The Democratic plan of an election by white votes only, whether in States already or not yet reconstructed, must be made effectual by violence if at all. To this end, they are quite safe in counting upon the hearty sympathies of the present Executive, but they are not sure of anything beyond that. The effective control of the military power of the nation has been committed to wiser and more patriotic hands than his, and we have little doubt that all critical emergencies have been and will be prudently and successfully guarded against.

Democratic anarchists will find that they have taken a contract for mischief, somewhat more difficult than they are willing to admit, and that it can only be accomplished by accepting issues so rugged and so perilous that either the disposition, or the ability, or both, of this party of misrule, will succumb in the trial. It would be well if the country, which is thus assured of the ultimate result, could also be spared from the anxiety, the turmoil, the strife, and very possibly the bloodshed out, of which constitutional authority is to be again vindicated and the National quiet restored.

A CANDIDATE'S COURTESIES.

The letter in which Mr. BLAIR announces his acceptance of the Democratic nomination, is a document of such spirit and phraseology as to justify the most serious imputations against his personal habits. No sober, temperate man, decorously mindful of the proprieties of his position as the nominee of a great party for the second office in the Republic, could be guilty of this undignified tirade of intemperate and vulgar denunciation, couched in the most violent language and directed against the great party and its distinguished candidate in opposition. Never, before, in the history of politics, has a similar instance occurred; no candidate of a National Convention was ever before known to forget the dignified reserve with which such a nomination properly clothes its recipient, by degrading his brief formal acceptance of the honor into a reckless and violent stump speech, which would be considered rather strong even for a popular gathering at some township cross-roads. The Democratic party comprehends among its leaders many gentlemen of grace, culture and polished deference to the courtesies of society, and who never suffer political acrimony to degrade them into blackguards. The Republican reader, even the least cognizant of the characteristics of public men, can nevertheless readily recall the names of many such gentlemen among his Democratic friends. Not only in the Atlantic States, but throughout the West, the more prominent leaders of the old Democracy, no matter how decided in their political sentiments, are known personally as gentlemen, in their utterances public and private. We can imagine the disgust which such men must feel when reading the discreditable effusion of BLAIR's drunken fury. It is a most repulsive illustration of the rapid degradation of American politics, when such a blackguard, as this fellow shows himself to be, becomes invested with such a high partizan distinction. The only reasonable interpretation that the case admits of is, that the charges which impeach him as an intemperate drinker are too well-founded, and that, as his recent conversion to Democracy inspires him with all the well-known bitterness of the renegade, so his sudden and unexpected elevation in the councils of his own friends has turned his head and plunged him into still more intemperate excesses. We congratulate the TILDENS, BARLOWS, MCCANDLESSES, CASSES, LOWRYS, CLYMERS, BLACKS, WOODWARDS, REEDS and PACKERS upon the decorous partizanship of their candidate.

THE EASTERN QUESTION.

Assurances have been given within the last few months, by the Cabinets of Paris, Berlin and Vienna, that there will be no rupture of the peace of Europe growing out of the re-organization of Germany. As these pacific declarations are not attended by a lessening of military preparations, but rather by an increase thereof, on the part of France, Prussia and Austria, the inquiry naturally arises, why these gigantic armies and costly equipments are maintained? Is it because of mutual jealousies and distrusts? Or, have these powers an ulterior end in view in the attainment of which they are likely to co-operate?

When NAPOLEON III. visited Austria, in the autumn of 1867, he doubtless meditated resistance to the consolidation of the Germanic States around the Prussian monarchy; but he found he had waited so long that his opportunity had gone by. The Emperor of Austria, in conformity with popular sentiment, had accepted as an inevitable result the reorganization of Germany, and was looking for territorial compensations elsewhere.

Recently, Prince NAPOLEON, who is known to be deeply hostile to the Russian policy in Europe, made a tour to Vienna, and thence to Constantinople. Of itself, this is a significant movement; but when it is connected with Count BISMARCK's declarations that peace will not be imperilled between Paris and Berlin; with the stringent measures adopted by Russia against Poland; with the assassination of the reigning Prince of Servia, and with the demands for an extension of the Hellenic monarchy, a strong probability, at least, is created that the unparalleled armaments now maintained have reference to a solution of the Eastern question.

The Grand Duchy itself is all the German territory retained by Austria, and all the indications point to an early necessity for relinquishing it. In that event—in any event—it would be essential for Austria to gain an eastern extension which would restore her prestige as a first-class power. This would baffle the traditionary aspiration of Russia for extending her borders to the Bosphorus; nay, would confer on Austria what Russia covets, the substance, as it already has the name, of being the Empire of the East.

This project, if entertained, would bring France, Prussia and Austria into harmony with each other; and against their combined forces Russia would find it difficult to make head, and might be so shorn of proportions as to cease to be an European power, in the strict sense of that term.

IT took the Democratic National Convention three days to nominate a candidate, but only three minutes to pass a resolution requesting President Johnson to pardon Jeff Davis!

THE TRADE OF AFRICA.

Two causes are contributing to develop legitimate commerce between Africa, on the one part, and Europe, Asia and America, on the other; first, the progress of geographical knowledge as to the African continent resulting from the explorations of BURTON, DENHAM, CLAPPERTON, LIVINGSTONE, BARTH, SPEKE and GRANT; second, the comparative suppression of the Slave-Trade.

These explorations demonstrated the existence not only of grand possibilities of production, but the actual possession of commodities for traffic far beyond previous computation. So long as the trade in human beings flourished, it was a disturbing element to industry, because it incited to incursions by one tribe upon another for the purpose of making captives. The magnitude of this disturbance can be estimated in view of the fact that as late as 1840 the number of slaves sold and transported was 170,000 annually.

The imports of Africa, last year, reached the sum of twenty millions of dollars, and the exports twenty-five millions. This commerce is destined to largely increase within the next few years, in consequence of the establishment of lines of steamers on some of the principal rivers. These steamers penetrate, in certain instances, as far as five hundred miles into the interior.

THERE IS NO LONGER A DOUBT that Mississippi has rejected the proposition to be reconstructed under a new Constitution, the majority against it being over seven thousand votes. The State will remain under a provisional government and the military control for another year, or until, in the discretion of the Federal authority, she shall conform herself to the legitimate results of her unsuccessful rebellion, and desire reunion with the Republic upon the basis of those principles of Justice, Freedom and Equality, which are now paramount in the Federal Constitution. Of course, the State, as remaining disorganized, will have no voice in the Electoral College this year. The Democratic and rebel design is, however, otherwise, and their scheme includes a vote of the citizens of Mississippi, as well as of Virginia and Texas, to be taken in some fashion, for their Presidential candidates, and to be counted in the result, even at the expense of another civil war. Fortunately, there is not the remotest prospect that the loyal States will consent to any such forced rehabilitation of these unreconstructed rebels, in an equal enjoyment of those privileges which they have forfeited by their unjustifiable rebellion.

POLITICAL ITEMS.

FACTS for the people—Col-fax!

DIX TO SEYMOUR—"I have troops enough to take care of the mob, and you too."

THE organization of Seymour "Rangers" has commenced. Seymour derangers will be in order after a while.

A. J. compares the New York nominations to the small-pox—liable to kill, hard to cure and harder to endure.

THE World speaks of Horatio Seymour as a "patriot." This is an allusion to the Pat Riots in New York, in July, 1863.—Detroit Tribune.

THE Democratic newspapers are very much worried about the loyal carpet-baggers at the South. They prefer the rebel knap-sackers.

MANY of the unterrified base their hope of Seymour's carrying New York upon the fact that his "friends" can vote oftener than the friends of any other man.

THE Seymour-shriekers, who are endeavoring to restore the old state of things in this country, might as well attempt to force a three months' chicken back into its shell.

THE new doctrine of peace—"There is but one way to restore the Government and the Constitution, and that is for the President elect to declare the Reconstruction acts null and void."—F. P. Blair.

THE Democrats have taken care to nominate a candidate for President who was in favor of the last rebellion against the Government, and a candidate for Vice President who has pledged himself in favor of the next rebellion against the Government.

Two Democrats recently set fire to a church in Magnolia, Miss, because they had been refused the use of it for a political meeting. Five thousand Democrats once set fire to an Orphan Asylum in New York because several thousand Democrats in gray had been killed at Vicksburg and Gettysburg.

THE Buffalo Commercial says; We hope nobody will be cruel enough to gather up the fragments of honest abuse of Frank Blair, when he was playing at soldier in the Union army, which may be found thickly scattered through the files of the Democratic journals of the day! A big volume of such "elegant extracts" might be made, but who wants to preserve such mementoes? It might be useful to Democratic editors, as they would only have to substitute the name of Grant for Blair, to use the matter over again.

OUR advices from the country show that the Democrats have not yet recovered from their indignation at the trick by which Seymour was nominated in the New York Convention, and the labor of getting them into line is more arduous than usual. The illusion that the nomination was entirely unexpected by the Seymour party was pleasantly dispelled by the appearance of elaborate Seymour banners on the street within twenty minutes of the vote. Such things are not painted in twenty minutes, and the display was injudicious.

Chief Justice Chase's Remorse.

Judge Underwood, of Virginia, who is in Utica to attend the commencement of Hamilton College—of which Horatio Seymour, Governor Hawley, Gerritt Smith and himself are graduates—says that he has seen Chief Justice Chase since the Democratic nomination was made. Judge Underwood was a co-laborer with Mr. Chase in Virginia reconstruction, and is still friendly to him. Mr. Chase expresses himself as a supporter of Grant and Colfax. He states that the Democrats treated him with treachery and design, assuring him of the nomination at New York as a foregone matter, but asking his co-operation in little paragraphic points of platform, so that they might harmonize in convention, and not estrange the great minority of Western or Brick Pomeroy Democrats. Leading him so from admission to admission, they magnified and exaggerated his relinquishments with the intent to bring his friends over to their nominee, while they should cast himself aside. The Chief Justice seems to have had a belly-full of Democratic professions, particularly of the kind that New York politicians give, and in this campaign, going back to his cardinal humanities, has concluded to hate his last enemies the most.

Washington Topics and Gossip.

The question of adjournment is still uncertain. A second reading of the President's veto message, in which he officially enunciates the Blair doctrine, has increased the number of those who favor a recess instead of an adjournment.

Fuller accounts of the way in which the Mississippi election was carried have had some effect, and have served powerfully to strengthen the sentiment in favor of the enactment of that clause in the Senate Military bill which gives arms to the reconstructed State governments in the South. Messrs. Morton, Wade, Wilson and many others in the Senate believe that the rebels will overwhelm the authorities, and overawe the black voters in every reconstructed State, unless they are given means for defence. In the House there does not appear to be so strong a sentiment in favor of this, and the newly installed Southerners are divided in sentiment—some fearing the political effect and the exasperating feeling which would result from such a measure, all of which make it possible that the subject would necessitate a good deal of debate should the bill be passed. It is likely, of course, to provoke a veto.

General Dyer has written a letter to the Secretary of War, demanding a court martial for an investigation of the charges made against him by the Select Joint Committee on Ordnance. He asks that the Committee may be requested to assist in the preparation and prosecution of the charges, and, if possible, that the court may be composed of the General-in-Chief and other officers of the highest rank in the army. This letter was submitted to the President in Cabinet meeting, and it is said the Secretary of War has addressed a letter to the President of the Senate requesting that the Joint Committee on Ordnance may be directed to prepare charges against Gen. Dyer, with a view to his trial by a court martial, which will be convened as soon as practicable after the charges shall have been furnished. If such letter has been written, it had not reached Mr. Wade at noon yesterday.

Mr. Evarts attended the Cabinet meeting yesterday for the first time. Great deference was paid to him, but it is known that his peculiar views will not be altogether acceptable. He argued rather in favor of the tax bill, and had such influence with the President as to induce him to let the bill become a law without his signature.

The Texas delegation got but little encouragement from the Reconstruction Committee relative to their petition for organizing a State militia force.

Mr. Hendricks' speech in Executive session, declaring that the Democracy and the President would not submit to the election of Grant and Colfax by negro votes, still attracts attention, as it is believed to be semi-official in its character. The Republicans think it decidedly revolutionary.

Col. Cooper has respectfully declined the nomination tendered him of Commissioner of Internal Revenue, and his name has been withdrawn. If the candidate named for that office is rejected, Mr. Johnson will appoint Col. Cooper to the office as soon as Congress adjourns. Lawyer Watts has friends here working for him in the Senate, and it is said he has a very fair chance for confirmation as Minister to Austria.

Mr. Sumner is opposed to the confirmation of candidates for the Russian, Austrian and Mexican Missions, but in the event of Mr. Hale's resignation of the mission to Spain, Gen. Rosecrans would be confirmed. The Michigan Senators oppose Mr. Wells for Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, and he will surely be rejected.

The Chinese treaty will be ratified, but the Sandwich Islands reciprocity treaty meets with a great deal of opposition.

The Army Bill is certain of a veto, as it gives General Grant authority to distribute arms in the South.

The Question of Parks.

Public parks are to the grown up population what play-grounds are to children—the spots for recreation and enjoyment. Wise city governments will always provide such grounds, beautified with verdure and water, alluring by their refreshing shades and balmy breezes the denizens of the hot and unventilated regions devoted to business.

Pittsburgh, considered with its present boundaries, is not well adapted for such purposes, the ground suitable for business (owing to the hilliness of much of it) being quite contracted; but there is a convenient outlet to the citizens, where abundance of ground is ready to their hand; and not only that, but the people of Allegheny, with a liberality unprecedented, are now actually beautifying it for the use and pleasure of Pittsburgh.

I am a citizen of Allegheny, and was greatly in favor of consolidation, because it would have been for the benefit of both cities—Pittsburgh wanting more room, and Allegheny needing more wealth and reputation. But, in spite of the limited means of the latter, she refused the opportunity of union, whereby two-thirds or more of the cost of her park would have to be defrayed by the former.

The Councils of Pittsburgh have appointed a Committee to secure a site for a city park. Now this ought not to be. It will be an utter waste of money. There is no earthly reason for such prodigality. It would cost a million or two for anything worthy of the name and of the city, and when obtained would not be as accessible as the Allegheny park. Don't let it be said that Pittsburgh will spend her millions simply because she is unwilling to have it go abroad that Allegheny has a park and she has none.

Allegheny needs no park—her wide streets and "magnificent distances," like all cities of that sort, are not much encumbered with business; in fact, as everybody knows, it is a large town made up, to a great extent, of the homes of those who have their business in Pittsburgh, and who return to their ample and shady grounds after the labors of the day are ended.

Let Pittsburgh be content with the park that Allegheny provides for her; it will be large enough for some time to come, and in due time consolidation will be achieved, and it will then become the Pittsburgh park.

Meanwhile there is a piece of ground gradually rising out of the waters unobserved, day after day enlarging its area, which I think is destined to become the very spot for repose—where the breeze, fresh from the beautiful Ohio, will ever be ready to fan the fevered brow and give delight to such as seek it. I allude to the locality known as "the Point," where the two rivers unite. There is already a very large piece of ground, made by the constant dumping of earth and other refuse material of the city, and a "battery like that of New York is even now quite practicable for size, if the ground were only brought up to the level of the adjacent streets, which will occur in the natural progress of the plan that has already accomplished so much.

Allegheny has also a spot far more capable of gratifying the senses than that which is now undergoing the beautifying process, although not so large. I allude to the ground lying along the river and bounded on the north by South Avenue. Were that leveled up to the height of the pavement and a Nicolson carriage way of twenty or twenty-five feet in width constructed, just outside of the present curb, there would be a large area of ground, capable of making a most enchanting resort for the lover of a combination of wood and water. The animation of running water, with the ceaseless interest afforded by the movements of the rapid steamboat, the lazy but picturesque raft, and numberless other objects that float on the stream, would make an attraction that no spot surrounded by houses can ever hope to compete with.

Let Allegheny go on and finish her park, and let Pittsburgh be not too proud to patronize it. In a few years the two cities will be one, and the increasing population will call for more parks. Then let the grounds that I have indicated be brought into requisition, and the most beautiful and best adapted sites, (at the least expense,) will be made to minister to the cravings of the people for more play ground.

SYLVANUS URBAN.

COMMUNICATIONS.

City Treasurership.

CITIZENS OF PITTSBURGH: Habit nor inclination does not induce me to thrust myself upon your notice; but, partly by my own desire, chiefly, however, at the earnest solicitations of many of my most ardent friends, I assume the liberty of thus addressing you.

Those who know me—and I believe that I can say, without being charged with egotism, that a majority of the tax-payers of Pittsburgh know me more or less for many years, and those who are most intimately acquainted with me know full well that I am not an adept in the art of political working, nor can it be expected that I should be a favorite with political wire-pullers, for I have never been initiated into the "ring," nor do I expect to ever have that honor (?)

It is generally known that I officiated as clerk and confidant of my worthy predecessor and dear friend, Mr. Eichbaum, for ten years, and that at his demise the City Councils were pleased to appoint me to fill his unexpired term of office. Believing that I had as great a claim for the office as any other humble individual in this community, I made it known generally that I aspired to the bearing of the mantle of my predecessor, and up to the day of that memorable Convention it was conceded all around that I had no opponent. The workings of that meeting are too nauseous for me to dwell upon, and the effects of the affair too well known to need repetition here.

Certain persons have charged me with having "bolted" from the Republican party, because I appealed to that party and to the people in general for their decision in my case last fall. A few self-constituted distributors of the public pap designed to lay me aside in so unceremonious a manner that my friends insisted upon my right to appeal directly to the people, and I did so. If I bolted, the Republicans of Pittsburgh bolted also, as is well known from the result of the election. I have no cause otherwise than to be grateful, and I am certain that the citizens in general are as satisfied as I am, otherwise they would not have sustained me as they did.

Once more, I ask the citizens of Pittsburgh for their suffrage. If they believe me to be deserving of their votes for the City Treasureship, they will show so at the primary election polls on the 15th of August, but if they should prefer either of my esteemed opponents, they have a right to do so, and I will bow submissively to their will.

S. ALLINDER.

City Treasurership.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—As the time is approaching when it becomes necessary—in accordance with the decision of the Republican Executive Committee—to place in nomination candidates to be voted for in October next, for such municipal offices as will become vacant in the beginning of the year, I, in conjunction with many of our citizens, invite Mr. S. Allinder, our present worthy City Treasurer, to offer himself for re-election. Mr. A. has always been a consistent and truthful Republican, and, without disparaging others, I may say that a more capable or deserving person for the position could not be found within our city limits. Integrity of purpose and action, affability of manners, and a becoming willingness at all times to serve the public, whose courteous servant he is, are conspicuous traits in his character, and such characteristics are enough to point him out as being the fitest man for the position. Then, by all means, let him come forward, and the public will greet him with the same cordial welcome as they did last Fall.

VICTOR.

—A culvert on the Camden and Amboy Railroad gave way on Tuesday, and a passenger train was precipitated into a creek. The engineer was fatally scalded and quite a number of persons injured.

IS YOUR DISEASE RHEUMATISM?

Many persons, supposing they are suffering from this disease, have applied Linaments, Plasters and other Rheumatic Remedies without obtaining any relief, when in fact the cause of pain is a derangement of the Kidneys. These are small organs, but very important, and any obstruction or interference with its functions are indicated by pain in the back and loins, languor and weakness, difficulty in avoiding and unnatural color of the urine. A Diuretic should at once be resorted to.

DR. SARGENT'S

Diuretic or Backache Pills

Can be relied on for these purposes; they have a direct influence on the cells of the kidneys, assists nature in relieving them of any foreign particles, and stimulates them to a healthy and vigorous action.

Dr. Sargent's Backache Pills

Contain nothing injurious, being composed of entirely vegetable remedies; they do not sicken nor gripe—on the contrary they act as a gentle tonic and restores tone to the system. They are recommended by all who have tried them.

DISASTER FOLLOWS NEGLECT.

Whoever feels the premonitory symptoms of sickness should remember that it adds the agony of self-reproach to the pangs of disease to remember that they might have been prevented.

Languor, debility and low spirits are often the precursors of terrible disorders. They indicate an immediate necessity for a tonic, and the best tonic in existence is HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. Sick headache, pain in the right side, and yellowness of the whites of the eyes are unmistakable symptoms of an approaching bilious attack, and, in order to ward it off, common prudence dictates the propriety of resorting to the most efficacious of all anti-bilious preparations—HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS.

Flatulence, nausea, oppression after eating, irregularity of the bowels, and a distate for exertion, denote a disordered state of the stomach, which, if neglected, is sure to culminate in chronic dyspepsia, but which may be relieved in a few hours, and entirely cured in a few days, by taking half a wineglass-full of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS at regular intervals. All physicians admit that innumerable lives are sacrificed every year that might have been saved by precautionary medication. Remember that one of the principal uses of HOSTETTER'S BITTERS is to put the system in a condition to REPEL DISEASE. It recruits and restores the waning strength, and is, therefore, especially needed during the season when intense heat makes such heavy and constant drafts on the vital principle.

CURE OF FISTULA.

DR. KEYSER: I write to thank you for your kindness and scientific management of my disease, for which I called to consult you some time in January last. You will remember that I had a complication of diseases, which finally ended in a terrible fistula, which I had been advised to "let alone," on account of a harassing cough, which it was feared might fasten it on my lungs. I knew that the peculair mode of treating diseases like mine was by a cutting operation, which, if successful at all, would naturally throw the disease upon the lungs or some other vital organ, on account of the suddenness of the cure and the immediate check to the discharge, which I believed was a salutary provision of nature to get rid of some morbid condition of the system. I feel perfectly satisfied that your method of treatment, purifying the system, and local applications to the fistulous part, must cure, if anything could, without cutting, which I find it did, and I am happy to report myself well in every particular, with sounder and better health than I have had for years. I would also add that the applications you made were almost painless, and have left me a new man, with all the energies and vigor of restored health.

Yours, gratefully, I—— C——.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, }
WEDNESDAY, July 22, 1868. }

The rise in bonds in Frankfort-on-the-Main and London from 76¼ to 77, and 72¼ to 72⅞, respectively, had no influence on the quotations of bonds in New York, bonds being actually ¼ to ½ per cent. lower to-day than last evening. The old Five Twenties remain firm however, as likewise the Ten Forties and Eighty-one's; for the latter, there is some investment, caused by fear that ultimately the latter issues of government bonds might be paid off in currency, or the interest reduced. The demand for new bonds is entirely confined to the exchange for Seven Thirties. Seven Thirty bonds are now quoted at ½ per cent. below their relative value to Five Twenties of 1868.

The gold market kept firm to-day at from 142⅞ to 143¼, with a light demand from importers, who are unwilling to buy at present quotations, the market being kept up by the bull ring formed prior to July first. It was there programme to run up gold before the first of July, but failing in that they tried again, and, probably, too soon; the entire bull movement has but little strength, and its object now is to frighten timid parties to cover at once. The gold now on the market will have to be reduced more before a successful corner can be engineered.

In railroad shares a very strong market has to be reported. It is the prospect of gaining largely in freight business what gives operators encouragement for a rise a pretense of running up stocks, the high prices of governments and the dullness of business in general keeps the money market well supplied with cheap capital, and enables parties to buy large lots on small margins.

Express stocks are improving, but the prospect for seeing these shares quoted at rates ranging from April till June, is rather slim. Their receipts have been constantly diminished, not only on account of the falling off in the regular carrying trade, but more so from the postal arrangement by which small sums of money can be transmitted with less cost, and but a little more delay. It was formerly the most renumerating part of the business of express companies to transmit small sums for which about one hundred per cent more was charged on sums of twenty to fifty dollars, than on round amounts.

Fast freight lines have also done their work to break down a monopoly which may count its palmiest days to the past.

Mining shares are dull and inactive, but more inquiry is made for the Pacific Railroad bonds, which are yet the cheapest security in the market.

Money easy and in full supply. Business unchanged.

Closing quotations as received by Ph. R. Mertz, were as follows:

Gold, 142⅞; 1881 bonds, 115⅛; 5-20s, 1862, 114⅛; 1864 do, 111⅛; 1865 do, 112⅜; new, 1865 and 1867, 109⅛; Ten Forties, 108¼; Seven Thirties, 108⅞.

New York Central, 134¼; Erie, 68⅝; Michigan Southern, 91⅜; Cleveland & Pittsburgh, 88; Northwestern, common, 84¼; Preferred, 81¾; Chicago & Rock Island, 107⅝; Pittsburgh & Fort Wayne, 110⅝; Ohio & Mississippi Certificates, 29¾; Merchants Union Express, 24¾; Western Union Telegraph, 35⅜; Corydon, 30; Quicksilver, 23⅝; Quartz Hill, 1,15.

—The new funding bill, passed by the Senate and amended by the House, providing for the consolidation of the entire Government debt, is a most important measure, as it is preparatory to the resumption of specie payment as well as a funding bill. It is plain that resumption is not feasible or safe without a preliminary consolidation of the debt, and without reducing it to a common gold basis. In this respect the bill presents some features that seem worthy of approval. But it remains for the bondholders to determine whether the new securities are a fair equivalent for the obligations of the United States now in their possession. On this subject there may be considerable diversity of opinion. There is much to be said in favor of the bill, that its adoption is likely to settle in a practicable manner the vexed questions of the payment of the debt in coin or in currency, as it is not probable that any political party will ever venture to disturb the conditions embodied in this bill.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, }
WEDNESDAY, July 22, 1868. }

There is but little that is new or important to be said about the markets in general; the demand for nearly all of the leading commodities is very much restricted being confined almost wholly to supplying the wants of the home trade, while so far values are concerned there are no important changes.

GRAIN—Wheat is offering pretty freely, and the market is rather weak with a drooping tendency; we now quote at $2,15 to $2,20, on spot—one miller reports having bought to-day at $2,10. It is claimed, however, that Tennessee Wheat cannot be brought here for less than $2,25; according to our latest advices, it was selling at $1,85 in Nashville, and by the time 30 cts per bushel freight, commissions and other incidental expenses are added it will cost fully $2,25, and perhaps a fraction more. It does not follow however that if wheat advances there, that there must of necessity be a corresponding movement here, as there is an abundance of it not near so far distant which will soon be thrown upon the market. Oats scarce and firm though the demand is only moderate; sales on track and in elevator at 78 to 80. Rye is quiet and nominal at $1,45 to $1,50—but very few buyers, and not much offering. Corn is still quoted at $1,05 to $1,10, as to quality.

GROCERIES—There is a continued good demand for Brown Sugars, which is always the case at this season of the year, as it is wanted for putting up small fruits. MILL FEED—Firm but unchanged. Sales of Middlings at $1,90 to $2, and Bran at $1,15 to $1,20.

FLOUR—The market continues dull and weak, though prices are without quotable change. Spring Wheat brands are quoted at $10 to $10,50 for good to choice, and $10,75 for choice Minnesota. Winter Wheat Flour has declined to $10,75 to $11; fancy brands, $12 to $13. Rye Flour, $8,50 to $9 per cwt.

NOTES OF SUMMER TRAVEL.

Away Down East—Sea and Shore—The White Mountains — Portland — Fessenden—Rural Scene—The Maine Law—Longevity of the People—Education, its Cost and Profit.

PORTLAND, MAINE, July 18, 1868.

Editors of the Gazette: One night's rest on the cars, another on board one of the magnificent mammoth Bristol steamers, gorgeous moving sea palaces, and one on the staunch and safe steamers plying between the hub and this city, brings one to this beautiful seaport rising splendidly from its ashes, this native place of the world-renowned Longfellow, and the home of Hon. Wm. Pitt Fessenden. One dollar is the fare from New York to Boston, some 200 miles. Eight hours ride in the cars will bring one from New York to Boston, and five hours from Boston to Portland. Here, then, I am, eight hundred miles from the dry, hot, smoky air of Pittsburgh, luxuriating in the clear invigorating air, enjoying the sea breezes, bathing in the cool, transparent and buoying salt water, gazing on the rising spray, the rolling waves, the long heaving swells, the numerous beautiful islands anchored in the bay, feasting on the cod, mackerel, halibut just from their home in the deep, or on the truly delicious pink-fleshed salmon from our rivers, or driving along the shore, washed by the ocean for many miles east or west. A ride of a few miles across Cape Elizabeth with the "broad expanse" in full view and the music of its roar ever sounding in our ears will bring us to a much-frequented beach white and hard and many miles in length. If worn out by labor and care and desiring to be free from all mental effort we can seat ourselves on the overhanging cliff where the waves in regular succession come battling the granite rocks, sending high their spray when stopped in their course, and returning to gather fresh strength to resume their attacks, and where the soothing music of the waters, or the exciting tumult of mountain waves, lashed into fury by the winds is heard. The limitless ocean is before us. The noble ship seen in the distance is a mere speck. We watch it for long hours as it gradually enlarges, disclosing to our view its canvass—its crew rejoicing at the near prospect of meeting dear ones after months or years of separation, bringing the rich products of distant lands. Nearer is the ship, with all sails spread to the stiff breeze bounding off on her voyage. The small boat on an excursion for pleasure, or fishing, is now raised to the top of the wave, now plunged into the trough of the sea, careening so as to receive the briny element freely over its side. Here the white seagull is gaily floating on the wave; there the porpoise is rising to the surface to utter his hoarse roar and sink again, or the fishes are dancing about in their sports.

Three hours' ride will bring us to rich mountain scenery, where standing on the first President, 1,800 feet above the level of the sea, we can gaze on Munroe, Madison, Jefferson, Adams and a long succession of the illustrious. No place can be found for the present inglorious incumbent. It should be a mountain whose elements are unrestrained by law, heaving and tossing by the fires from below, destroying alike friend and foe, the works of man and nature.

Portland is a beautiful city, extending far out into one of the most charming bays. It bears the marks of the terrible conflagration which swept through it, destroying 1,700 buildings and numberless elms. The 2,000 buildings already erected, many of them elegant structures—the magnificent hotel—the splendid city buildings bear witness to the energy of its citizens. Water is being brought from Sebago Lake, some twenty miles, and $700,000 have been subscribed by the city towards the Ogdensburg Rail road.

Fessenden stock is below par. Great indignation is felt by nearly all loyal men at his course in the impeachment trial. Prejudice against Wade, not bribery, is assigned as the cause. He is a selfish, ungrateful dyspeptic. The people will have no more gifts for him, his resignation is all they ask, that his place may be filled by a better man, one less bitter, more kind, who has a stomach, and who is a man for the times. Verily, they have their reward. S.

YARMOUTH, ME., July 20, 1868.

Editors of the Gazette: Here I am this calm, cool morning, in the centre of a quiet New England village with its neat, tasteful and, in some cases, elegant white houses with their green blinds surrounded with the wide-spreading elms. Long rows of elms line each side of the street joining hands in the centre. Six churches and seminaries with their spires or domes are within a stone's throw. The Bay, with its numerous beautiful islands, stretches out before us. The granite hills are behind. Only now and then a person or carriage passes along the streets. It is painfully quiet. There is hardly excitement enough to sustain life. A capital place, however, it is for sleep. Even those who do walk the streets do so with grade, thoughtful countenances and a slow, solemn tread, as if plotting some huge crime, cataline-like, or as if meditating on some past or future dire calamity. When they speak, it is slowly and cautiously measuring every word as if considering its terrible consequences. The business is on the ocean, where many of the sons and fathers are. It is, therefore, not surprising that, notwithstanding the perils to which so many of them are exposed on the deep, that they live to a good old age, for they live slowly and carefully. The Maine Law is in force and no alcoholic liquors can be had, except on the certificate of a physician. In this town, of 2,500 inhabitants, there are sixty persons above eighty years of age and one hundred and twenty-nine above seventy. But I enjoy it; I can sail, fish, ride, read or sleep.

July is the month for the examinations and anniversaries of the Schools, Seminaries and Colleges of New England. Accounts of these fill the columns of the journals. These accounts interest the readers of these papers. These occasions receive attention from all, the humblest and highest, the poor farmer or mechanic and the millionaire, the divine and the scholar. They are looked forward to for months. The alumni from distant parts come home and gather around their alma mater. They visit their old halls and tread their accustomed groves. Young men and maidens, and old men and women alike, for many miles, crowd the churches where these exercises are held. The papers tell us that at the examinations of such and such public schools, the rooms were crowded by interested fathers and mothers. The usual business and cares are omitted. The education of their children is regarded as of the first importance. They who minister at God's altar so regard education, and by their presence and words of approbation and counsel on such occasions give their great influence in its favor. Hence to educate well a son or daughter is the highest ambition of parents, and to be educated the highest desire of children. For this purpose the young men struggle long and hard against adverse fates. Here, to be a teacher is no disgrace for man or woman, and to be a Professor in a College is a high honor, and a passport to the best society.

Often at these anniversaries the donations for the year are announced. Maine, with a population only twice that of Allegheny county, has three flourishing colleges, with extensive libraries, cabinets, galleries of paintings and long rows of handsome edifices. To one of these, at a recent commencement, it was announced that a gentleman who had given $25,000 had pledged $75,000 more.

Harvard is expending more than $200,000 on her Memorial Hall; Amherst, within fifty years, has come into existence and is worth more than $1,000,000; Yale and Williams, and Brown, and Bowdoin, and Dartmouth, are rapidly adding to their endowments and advantages. During the past five years more than $1,000,000 has been contributed annually to seminaries and colleges in New England. Hence the universality and high standard of education here. It is a common topic of conversation with all classes. Children inhale a desire for it with the very air they breathe. With a granite soil and a severe Arctic climate, a stern winter seven months of the year, they find time to educate their sons and daughters, and money richly to endow their institutions of learning. Her sons and daughters are found in every State, filling the highest positions and exerting a powerful influence. Let people and States jealous of her power imitate her example. S.

Oysters Sun-dried.

(From the San Francisco Bulletin.)

We have several times mentioned in the Bulletin the oysters of West Mexico on the eastern gulf coasts as being much used round Guaymas and other Sonora towns, in a dried state—i. e., desicated in the sun like California, charqui or hung beef. From your shipping reports it appears the Mexican steamers, during the past twelve months, have brought up to San Francisco one or two hundred bales of this article, and we suppose the trade must be now well inaugurated, as the article would not be brought to California if they were not eatable and in demand; and it is well known they are in common use in the large towns of Sonora, Durango, and Jalisco every year during the season of Lent, and from ancient times in those countries. The oysters from the Bay of Fonseca are also dried in this way, and form a regular article of trade to the upland towns of Central America. There are also stated to be good oysters, in abundance, in some of the small coves of the Bay of Panama. Smoke-dried oysters are a common article of trade in China, and found in every grocer's shop in that country.

WATER VELOCIQEDES.—An ingenious application of the principle of the velocipede to water locomotion may now be seen on the Lake of Enghien, near Paris. The form of this new species of naval construction is that of the twin ship tried some years back on the Thames, the motive power being placed in the middle instead of on each side, as in ordinary paddle steamers. A pair of hollow water tight pontoons, about twelve feet long, ten inches wide in the thickest part, and tapered to a point at each end, and fastened together about twenty inches apart by transverse bars near the extremities. In the centre is placed the seat, rising about two feet above the water, and supported by iron rods. In front is the paddle wheel, about three feet in diameter and eight inches broad, provided with sixteen floats, the axle turning on stout iron uprights, and the rotary motion being obtained from cranks worked by the feet. This little vessel is steered by rudders at each of the sterns, and moved by lines. The pontoons being made of thin mahogany planks, the whole construction is very light, and glides along with astonishing rapidity.

A CORRESPONDENT of the New York Times says; "You state that it has been discovered in India that a cure of hydrophobia may be promptly effected by salivating the victim with calomel and a mercury bath. Please state, for the benefit of hydrophobia victims, that it has been discovered in America that horse radish and sweet oil, a tablespoonful of this mixture as often as it can be swallowed and retained on the stomach, together with a poultice of the same over the wound, has proved a prompt and perfect cure for this appalling malady, in several instances, indeed all in which it has been tried so far as known. It is more convenient than mercury, and as simple as cabbage-leaf for preventing sun-stroke. Let the people know it."

GAME SCARCE ON THE PLAINS.—A writer speaking of sport on the plains, says: Buffalo are not visible here just now. Antelope are scarce. Badgers, jack rabbits and prairie dogs are the only game. I noticed a general dearth of buffalo on the plains this year. For the past month they are not reported anywhere. In a distance of nearly three hundred and fifty miles, which I traveled on the open prairie, far away from a railroad, in a space of time occupying four or five days, there was not a herd to be seen. At this rate the Indians will have to 'fold up their tents like the Arabs and silently steal away,' for they will be starved out in this region."

THE New York rowdies are notorious for their brutality and impudence. A gang of them, on Wednesday night, stopped a horse car containing a picnic party on the way home, and maltreated and robbed the passengers in a brutal manner, one individual with a livelier imagination than the others proposing to set fire to the ladies' dresses. He even lighted a match with the avowed intent of carrying out this purpose, when the conductor, who had previously preserved a condition of masterly inactivity, interposed and prevented its consummation. At this juncture two policemen put in an appearance, at the sight of whom the ruffians decamped.

THE crimes in the Kingdom of Italy during 1866 are reported to be fearfully large. It should, however, be remembered that the newly annexed provinces were in a terrible state of disorder, and that the condition of these districts has been greatly improved, the Italian Government making every effort to put down brigandage and its attendant crimes. In 1866, however, there were 3,157 murders, 138 suicides, 8 deaths by duelling, and 6 deaths by capital punishment. Number of escaped criminals, 517; refractory to the conscription, 3,869; deserters, 1,150, or in all, 5,536 living by pillage of the inhabitants.

A BROTHER of the late N. P. Willis is said to be at present in Melbourne, in business as a bootmaker. He has the red hair and the features of the Willis family, and is a good deal like the lately deceased poet. His own story is that he ran away from home in a whaler when very young and has remained away ever since. Two or three years ago some American gentlemen in Melbourne lent him one hundred dollars to start him up in business, taking boots in payment of the loan; but he has not, so far, been very successful. He is, it is alleged, undoubtedly a brother of the late poet.

CITY AND SUBURBAN.

Daily Prayer Meeting—From 12 M. to 12:30 o'clock at the Methodist Church, Fifth street, next door to GAZETTE office.

Allegheny Councils.—A stated meeting of the Allegheny Councils will be held this evening, at 7½ o'clock.

Committed for Vagrancy.—Justice Saulsbury yesterday committed Mary Dufford to jail for thirty days for vagrancy on oath of Hosea Husted.

New Track.—A new track is being laid at the railroad crossing on Federal street, Allegheny, to take the place of the old one, which is worn out.

New Arrangement.—The offices of the Sheriff and Prothonotary will be closed at half-past four o'clock every evening hereafter until the first of September.

Recovering.—Benjamin Stauffer, the man who was sun-struck in Diamond alley on Tuesday, an account of which we published, was somewhat improved yesterday.

Assault and Battery.—Catherine McLain made information before the Mayor yesterday, charging George Jones with assault and battery. A warrant was issued for his arrest.

Completion.—The double track of the Pittsburgh & Birmingham Railway was completed yesterday to the East Birmingham line, and the cars are now running on it to that point, The worken are engaged extending the track to the terminus of the road.

Surety.—William Hannon made information before the Mayor yesterday, in which he alleges that John and Mary Hagerty threatened to do him great injury, and he desires that they be arrested and held to bail to keep the peace. A warrant was issued.

Larceny of a Skiff.—Dennis McQuade alleges that Michael Murray took possession of and appropriated to his own use a skiff belonging to him valued at $20. Murray was arrested and, in default of $100 bail, was committed to jail [illegible]tice Barker.

Correction.—We were in error in stating that Drum was the man who was stabbed in the riot in Lawrenceville on Sunday. The injured party was Mr. Oliver Criswell, of Wheeling, West Virginia. We understand that Mr. Criswell received one stab in the head and another very serious one in the side, but at present he is slowly recovering.

Common Barrator.—Martha Laughlin made information before the Mayor yesterday, charging William McKnight with barratry. It appears that McKnight has made information against a number of persons, among whom is the prosecutrix, for illegal liquor selling, for which he is charged with the offence named. He was arrested and held to bail for his appearance at court,

Pay Your Taxes.—Taxpayers should remember that after the 1st of next month they will not be allowed the five per cent. discount on their taxes, but will be required to pay the full amount, and act accordingly. Many of them will doubtless put the matter off until the last day, when the office will be so thronged that the gentlemanly and accommodating Treasurer will be unable to attend to them.

Notice.—By the supplement to the act of consolidation the representation of the several wards in Common Council is to be based upon the number of taxable inhabitants, and in order to give the Committee appointed by Councils for that purpose time to make the apportionment, Assessors are desired to make their returns on or before Saturday next, as the Committee are required to report on the Monday following.

Cheap Boarding.—A warrant was issued yesterday by Alderman McMasters for the arrest of Jerry Noland, charged with false pretence, on oath of Mrs. Barbara Barrett. Barbara keeps a boarding house at No. 701 Liberty street, and she alleges that Noland obtained boarding to the amount of forty-five dollars, by representing that he was employed by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, and that he had money due him from them, which statement is said to be false.

Park Committee.—The special committee appointed by Councils to select a suitable place for a public park, met yesterday afternoon and organized by electing Col. William Phillips, Chairman and A. M. Brown, Esq., Secretary. After transacting some unimportant business they adjourned to meet on Saturday next, when they intend visiting the rural part of the city to examine different sites and receive proposals from parties offering their grounds for sale for that purpose.

Church Festival.—The cool and airy rooms of the Liberty street M. E. Church (corner Liberty and Hay) will be open this evening and Friday evening to all the friends of the congregation who wish to enjoy a pleasant hour or two. Ice cream and cakes, and other delicacies of the season will be provided in abundance. In addition to the evening entertainment dinner will be served from twelve o'clock to three, giving a fine opportunity to get an excellent meal at a trifling cost.

Wanted to Keep Him.—W. T. McKain made information yesterday before Alderman McMasters, against Mrs. Francis Yutt for assault and battery. According to his story, his son, about seventeen years of age, has been employed by the Yutts about a year, and when Mrs. McKain went yesterday to take the boy home and collect his wages, she was set upon by Mrs. Yutt, who gave her a severe body beating, and refused to let the boy go. The parties reside in East Deer township. Warrant issued.

Abused a Horse.—Thomas McKain, foreman of McVay & Co's., livery stable, on Irwin street, made information yesterday, before Alderman McMasters against Richard Kidd, for misdemeanor. McKain alleges that Kidd came to the stable and hired a horse and buggy, on the 10th inst., stating that he wished to take a sick man home. After taking the turnout from the stable he drove recklessly and furiously through the street, upsetting the buggy and damaging it and the horse to the amount of $50. Kidd was arrested, and paid the amount with costs, and was discharged.

Teachers Elected.—At a meeting of the School Board of the old Seventh ward of the city, the following teachers were elected to serve for the ensuing year: Principal—John J. Taggart. Grammar Department—Miss M. E. Taggart, Miss Sallie C. Martin. Intermediate Department—Miss Irene Rutledge, Miss Harriet Matthews, Miss Jennie E. Smith. Primary Department—Miss Aggie M. Martin, Miss Jennie Moffet, Mrs. Hattie Davis, Miss Maggie Marshall, Miss Annie Moore, Miss Maggie E. Irwin. We are indebted to Capt. Mays, the worthy Secretary of the School Board, for the above.

Ben. Franklin Insurance Company.—This young institution of our sister city, as will be seen by its advertised official statement, is rapidly advancing to the dignity of a first class insurance company. Its outstanding risks have been extended to nearly a million. Its available resources appear to be ample for any probable contingency, and we know its affairs are managed with caution and skill. Its increasing business will ere long oblige the directors to avail themselves of the authority granted in the charter to duplicate or triplicate the capital. We are glad to note the healthy progress of the "Ben. Franklin."

DEMOCRATIC COUNTY CONVENTION.

Beggarly Show of Delegates—Drumming Up at Recess—Fusion with the Labor Reform Party—A Cooked Up Arrangement—All Harmonious—Andrew Burt for Congress—A. W. Foster for State Senate—Orations at the Close.

Delegates chosen by the Democracy of Allegheny county in June, for the purpose of making nominations for Congress and County offices, and who, after assembling in Convention at Lafayette Hall, on June 10th, took no action, but adjourned to August 12th, met in Convention at the Court-house on Wednesday, at the call of the Chairman, the County Committee having deemed it politic to make nominations at an earlier day than had been at first determined upon.

The attendance was small, meagre. Of the eighty odd districts of the county we are entirely safe in saying less than one-half were represented. This small representation accounts for the harmony which prevailed, as had there been a full turn out of the "unsophisticated," the manipulations of a certain set might have caused a row in the camp, and the programme seriously interfered with. As far as the action of the Convention is concerned, it might have been foretold with entire correctness days ago. The proceedings were merely formal, and entirely devoid of that interest which usually attaches to County Conventions.

Thomas J. Keenan, Esq., Chairman of the previous Convention, took the stand at the appointed hour. He explained briefly the object of the Convention, and stated that in deference to the judgment of influential members of the party it had been called at an earlier date than had been agreed upon.

In the absence of the regular Secretary, Mr. Lynch, Secretary of the County Committee, was called on to officiate.

Maj. Thomas Gibson, of Pine township, offered the following resolution, which was adopted:

Resolved, That we approve the action of County Committee in calling this Convention to meet to-day instead of 12th of August, the time to which it stood adjourned, and that we now proceed to the regular business of the Convention.

Alderman Strain offered the following, which was adopted:

Resolved, That the rules of the House of Representatives of Pennsylvania be the rules for the government of this Convention so far as the same are applicable.

Mr. Joseph R. Hunter offered the following, which was adopted:

Resolved, That the Chair appoint a committee of five persons to confer, in conjunction with himself, with any similar committee appointed by the Labor Reform Convention, now in session, respecting a county ticket, and to report the result forthwith, with such recommendations as they may deem proper.

Mr. Cornelius O'Donnell offered the following, which was also adopted:

Resolved, That the Chair appoint a County Committee of Correspondence consisting of not less than fifty members, with himself as chairman, to act for the ensuing year and until the appointment of their successors by the next regular nominating Convention.

Mr. James Irvin offered a resolution that the Chairman appoint a campaign committee. Adopted.

Capt. John Rodgers offered the following:

Resolved, That a Committee of five be appointed by the Chair to draft resolutions for this Convention, and that all resolutions relative to platform be referred to that Committee without debate.

Mr. J H. Thaw offered as a substitute that the Convention adopt the New York platform and endorse the nominees, Seymour and Blair.

Capt. Rodgers said he had prepared a set of resolutions, one of which was an endorsement of the New York platform. His object was to introduce other resolutions relative to local matters, and thought it desirable to say something complimentary about the soldiers and sailors.

Mr. Thaw supported his substitute. Everything necessary for the Convention to express themselves upon was embraced in the resolutions adopted by the New York York Convention. The Committee might report and the Convention adopt resolutions which would not suit the Labor Reform Convention.

James H. Hopkins, Esq., said if the substitute was voted down, it would place the Convention in the awkward position of having refused to endorse the platform.

Mr. Thaw believed his substitute met the approbation of a majority of the Convention, and refused to withdraw it, as he had been importuned to do.

Mr. John Sawyer called for the question on the substitute.

Mr. Hopkins then raised a point of order. The substitute was not germane to the original resolution.

The Chairman thought the point not well taken.

Mr. Thaw, finally yielding to the pressure brought to bear upon him, withdrew his substitute.

Capt. Rodgers' resolution was adopted.

Mr. James Irwin moved that the Convention take a recess for half an hour.

A delegate suggested that the Convention had proceeded so far without calling the roll. It was desirable that it should be known who were members of the Convention and who were not members.

The Chairman—This is an adjourned Convention. Those who were delegates at the Convention which met June 10th are delegates to this Convention.

Delegate—It may be necessary to wet nurse it over again. The roll should be called.

Mr. W. W. Alexander objected to the calling of the roll. It was manifest there was but a small number of the delegates present, and it was unnecessary to call over the names. The people in the rural districts were engaged in harvesting, and this would account for the absence of many delegates.

Finally it was agreed to dispense with the calling of the roll until after recess, in order to give time for arranging substitutes.

Mr. Irvin's resolution for recess was amended by Alderman Strain so as to extend the time to one hour, and as amended adopted.

Before taking a recess the Chairman announced Committees as follows:

On Conference—Messrs. Joseph R. Hunter, James Irvin, Cornelius O'Donnell, John A. Strain, J. H. Hopkins.

On Resolutions—Capt. John Rodgers, J. H. Thaw, W. H. Reel, Maj. Thomas Gibson, C. Magee.

REASSEMBLING—REPORT OF CONFERENCE COMMITTEE.

The Convention re-assembled at half-past eleven o'clock and was called to order by the Chairman.

The following report from the Committee on Conference was then read:

The Committee on Conference beg leave to report: That they met a similar committee of the Labor Reform Convention, and after full conference it was unanimously agreed that it would be sound policy for the Convention to make nominations only for State Senator, three members for Assembly, District Attorney, Assistant District Attorney, County Controller and Poor House Director, and for the Labor Reform Convention to nominate only for the remaining offices, viz; three members for Assembly, County Commissioner and County Surveyor, and that the Committees should meet again after the action of the respective Conventions to report the same to each other. This Committee, therefore, recommends this Convention for the present to make nominations in accordance with this report.

Mr. Uzziah Stewart offered the following resolution which was passed:

Resolved, That the report of the Committee be accepted and its recommendations adopted, and that we now proceed to nominate and mark for candidates in accordance with the report.

The following candidates were placed in nomination:

State Senate—A. W. Foster, city; Hall Patterson, city; W. D. Moore, Sewickley.

Assembly—W. C. Deane, city; John Rodgers, Ross Tp.; John Small, city; Jas. Calhoun, Elizabeth Tp.; J. K. P. Duff, Chartiers Tp.; Peter Gelscheimer, city; Charles P. Whiston, Allegheny; Wm. Muller, Allegheny; John Murray, South Pittsburgh; and John D. Moreland, city.

District Attorney—John N. McClowry, city, and D. D. Bruce, Liberty.

Assistant District Attorney—John Coyle, city; Alf. Kerr, Birmingham, and Wm. Reardon, city.

County Controller—Capt. Jas. H. Stewart, Allegheny city.

Poor House Director—Barnes Ford, Scott township, and John P. Heisel, East Birmingham.

The Convention then adjourned to meet at one o'clock.

Afternoon Session.

The Convention reassembled at one o'clock, and the roll of delegates was called.

A delegate moved that D. H. Williams, late editor of the Republic, be substituted for Mr. G. W. Motheral, delegate from the Sixth ward, Allegheny, who was absent.

This caused considerable discussion. Mr. Williams was charged with being a "conservative," a member of another organization, which would probably meet in a few days and make nominations.

Mr. J. H. Sawyer advocated the claims of Mr. Williams. He said it was only necessary to read the call for the convention to answer the objection. All opposed to Radicalism were invited to participate.

Finally it was discovered that Mr. Williams was "all right," and those who had opposed now favored his admission.

Then followed a large number of substitutions, and it was plainly apparent that the managers had been active during recess in efforts to secure anything like an adequate representation from the county.

A letter from W. D. Moore, Esq., declining to be a candidate for State Senator, was read.

Mr. J. H. Sawyer withdrew the name of Hall Patterson, suggested for State Senator.

On motion of W. W. Alexander, A. W. Foster, Esq., (being the only candidate left,) was nominated for State Senator by acclamation.

The Convention then proceeded to mark for candidates for the remaining offices, with the following result on first ballot:

ASSEMBLY.
J. K. P. Duff	35	Peter Gelsheimer	35
*John Rodgers	107	*C. P. Whiston	52
W. G. Deane	35	Jas. Calhoun	25
John Murray	15	Michael Lepp	1
J. D. Moreland	5	W. Muller	14
*J. B. Lynch	61
DISTRICT ATTORNEY.
*D. D. Druce	82	Jno. N. McClowry	34
ASSISTANT DISTRICT ATTORNEY.
*John Coyle	67	Alfred Kerr	61
COUNTY CONTROLLER.
Jas H. Stewart	51	*C. W. Eyster	62
POOR HOUSE DIRECTOR.

Barnes Ford was nominated by acclamation.

During the balloting Maj. G. P. Vierheller became much exercised, alleging there was "connivin" going on, and demanded that everybody should stand back from the stand and allow delegates to vote without interruption. The Major's appeal seemed ineffectual.

Mr. Robert Gutherie inquired who were the Secretaries. He said it was hard to tell from appearances.

Finally the veteran John Fox prevailed upon the Chairman to reduce the pressure at the desk where the marking was going on.

One of the Secretaries having been charged with undue interference, left his place, accosted his accuser, (not a delegate,) hot words were exchanged, and something was said about settling the dispute on another occasion. Thus harmony was preserved.

Before the ballot was announced a motion was carried that the three candidates for Assembly who had received the highest number of votes be declared the nominees.

J. C. Barr, Esq., offered the following, which was adopted:

Resolved, That the Committee of Conference report to the Labor Reform Conference Committee the nominations made by the Convention and receive their report of the nominations made by their Convention, with such recommendations as they may deem necessary.

In accordance with this resolution, Mr. J. R Hunter, Chairman of the Committee, reported as follows:

"The Committee of Conference report that they met the Labor Reform Conference Committee and made report as directed, and received a report of the nominations of the Labor Reform Convention, (naming them,) and the Committee unanimously agreed that the respective Committees should advise their respective Conventions to recommend the support of the candidates nominated by the other Convention, which this Committee accordingly advises."

The Chairman read the report of the Committee on Resolutions, as follows:

Resolved, That this Convention do hereby endorse the platform of principles adopted by the National Democratic Convention July 8, 1868, and that the candidates placed in nomination by said National Convention for the offices of President and Vice President of the United States, Horatio Seymour, the eminent statesman, and Frank P. Blair, the gallant soldier, will receive our earnest support.

Resolved, That the thanks of the Democracy everywhere are due to Hon. George H. Pendleton for his advocacy of the payment of bondholders in the legal currency of the land, and for his advocacy thereby of the best interests of the workingmen and the whole country.

Resolved, That we recommend the ticket this day nominated to the support of the Democracy of the county and of all citizens opposed to the corrupt management of public affairs by the party now having control of the Government.

W. D. Moore, Esq., was called upon for a speech and responded. His remarks were not particularly forcible, and only remarkable for vituperation. He said it was useless to conceal the fact that the nominations by the New York Convention were not satisfactory; but this mattered little, as the Democratic party regarded measures more than men, and the mere individuals representing the principles enunciated were as nothing. Gen. Grant he referred to as a "butcher," as one who kept his mouth shut that people might not know he was a fool, and as a soldier he was but a circumstance compared to Frank P. Blair, who had by his personal efforts and bravery saved one State (Missouri) from going out of the Union. Of Horatio Seymour he spoke in the highest terms as a statesman, but did not essay any reason why his nomination, as well as that of Blair, was not relished by the Democracy of Allegheny county. Speaking of the greenback dogma, he said the Democratic party party were in favor of paying the bondholders just as other creditors were paid, according to law. The bondholder might take his pound of flesh, but not one drop more. Mr. M finally concluded his harrangue, without having elicited any enthusiasm, and the effort to that end was an entire failure.

The report of the Conference Committee, and also the report of the Committee on Resolutions, were formally adopted.

A. W. Foster, Esq., the nominee for State Senator, was called upon, and after thanking the Convention for placing him on the ticket, declined to make a speech, but promised to give all present numerous opportunities to hear him before the campaign closes.

The Convention then, on invitation, adjourned to the room occupied by the Labor Reform Convention, to hear Mr. Burt, the candidate for Congress.

CONGRESSIONAL CONVENTIONS.

XXII DISTRICT.

During the recess of the general Convention, the delegates from the districts south of the Allegheny and Ohio rivers, comprising the Twenty-second Congressional District, assembled for the purpose of nominating a candidate for Congress.

James H. Hopkins, Esq., was called to the chair, and Mr. Lynch chosen Secretary.

Thos. J. Keenan, Esq., said a large number of citizens were pressing the nomination of A. W. Foster, Esq., as a candidate for Congress, but he had declined the proffered honor. Mr. K. read the following letter from Mr. Foster:

PITTSBURGH, July 21, 1868.

To Thomas J. Keenan, Esq., Chairman Democratic Convention:

SIR: When I became a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Congress in this District, there was no probability of defeating the Radical candidate, and my sole object was to occupy a position which would enable me to render more efficient service than I could hope to afford merely as a private citizen.

It is now believed by many that a union can be effected with the Labor Reform movement which must result in the defeat of General Negley; such being the view held by experienced politicians, it would ill become me, even had I the necessary influence to succeed, to attempt to defeat a project having in view so desirable a purpose. You will therefore please announce to the Convention that my name is withdrawn from the contest.

It is my sincere belief that if the requisite effort is made we can redeem Allegheny county, heavy as the Republican majority has been heretofore. To do this we must be united, and give our best efforts to the work; as regards myself, so far as my time is at my own disposal, I am ready to help whenever and wherever my aid may be cosidered desirable.

Truly, yours, A. W. FOSTER.

Ordered to be spread upon the records of the Convention.

Alderman Strain read a letter from Gen. J. Bowman Sweitzer, also declining to be a candidate for Cougress.

Ordered to be spread upon the minutes of the Convention.

Mr. James Irvin offered a resolution, which, after being "doctored," read as follows:

Resolved, That we deem it inexpedient at this time to nominate a candidate for Congress in the Twenty-second District, and recommend Andrew Burt to the undivided support of the Democracy of this District, as a candidate already in the field by a call of citizens of all parties.

The resolution was adopted.

A delegate moved that a committee be appointed to notify Mr. Burt of his nomination.

Mr. Keenan thought this would be irregular, as they had made no nomination.

Another delegate moved that the Conference Committee go through the ceremony of informing Mr. Burt of his nomination.

Mr. Keenan again interposed, saying it was entirely unnecessary as Mr. Burt was already before the people as a candidate.

The Chairman silenced the latter proposition by the announcement that the Convention (the Congressional) had not appointed a conference committee.

The Convention then adjourned.

XXIII DISTRICT.

The delegates from the districts on the north side of the Ohio and Allegheny rivers, comprising, with Butler and Armstrong counties, the Twenty-third Congressional District, also assembled during recess. Capt. John Rodgers was called to preside, and Jacob Whitesell, Esq., to officiate as Secretary.

On motion, Messrs. G. W. Motheral, Thomas Gibson and W. T. Farley were chosen Conferees, to meet with Conferees from Butler and Armstrong counties to nominate a Congressional candidate.

On motion adjourned.

LABOR REFORM CONVENTION.

Slim Attendance--Want of Enthusiasm--Fusion with the Democracy.

The left wing of the Democracy, under the garb of the Labor Reform Party, assembled in the Quarter Sessions room at the Court House at 10 o'clock A. M. yesterday to the number of twenty-four, ostensibly for the purpose of nominating candidates for Congress, State Senate, Assembly and county officers, but virtually to ratify the action of the right wing of the party which assembled at the same hour in the Common Pleas court room.

It was plainly evident from the class of delegates, the great majority of whom were old Democratic politicians, that the Convention would be manipulated in the interest of the Democracy, and the consequence was that the meeting was a decidedly tame one, and lacked that enthusiasm which marked the Labor Reform Convention of last year. There were quite a number of credentials handed to the Secretary, most of which we opine were manufactured for the occasion, as there was no one to answer to the names when called.

The Convention was called to order by E. A. Frethy, on whose motion Mr. B. A. M'Ginty was elected temporary chairman.

Mr. M'Ginty upon taking the chair, in a very brief address thanked the Convention and hoped the proceedings would be harmonious.

On motion of Mr. H. B. M'Curry, Mr. Samuel A. Steel was elected temporary Secretary.

On motion of Mr. M'Curry, the Chair appointed a Committee of five on Credentials, as follows: George W. Clay, Rudolph Gibson, Geo. T. Snowden, And. Moreland and Jas. M'Cleary.

The credentials were then handed to the Secretary, who after making out a list of delegates, submitted them to the Committee on Credentials.

Mr. Frethy moved that the Chairman be authorized to appoint a Committee on Permanent Organization and a Committee on Resolutions.

The motion was adopted and the following appointments made:

Permanent Organization—Jas. Richards. H. B. M'Curry, Chas. Comp, Jas. Irwin and Patterson Brown.

Committee on Resolutions—E. A. Frethy, W. A. M'Laughlin, W. W. Alexander, Daniel Coyle and Wm. Price.

The Committee on Credentials then reported the following gentlemen as being entitled to seats in the Convention:

PITTSBURGH.

First ward—P. H. Higgins, Samuel McLain.
Fifth ward—James Braddock, Timothy Lawler.
Sixth ward—H. B. McCurry, Sam'l S. Lambert.
Seventh ward—Wm. A. McLaughlin, George T. Snowden.
Eighth ward—S. A. Steel, James Gilderman.
Ninth ward—A. M. Moreland, John Jordan.
Tenth ward—Bernard McGrath, James R. Reed.
Eleventh ward—John Eack, B. McGinty.
Twelfth ward—W. R. Evans, H. J. Howe.
Fourteenth ward—Daniel Coyle, G. Gerner.
Fifteenth ward—James L. Irwin, Thos. Meagher.
Seventeenth ward—G. W. Clay, E. A. Frethy.
Twenty-third ward—Thomas McGrath, William Spencer.

ALLEGHENY.

Third ward—D. L. Smith, J. E. Robinson.

BOROUGHS.

Birmingham, First Precinct—Patterson Brown, Wm. Randrew. Second Precinct James Michaels, Charles Camp.

West Pittsburgh—A. Jaquay, James Russell.
Mt. Washington—Thos. J. Jones, Thos. Barry.
Temperanceville—Benj. White.
Peebles—Wm. Buelcaif, — Phillips.
Versailles—Wm. Price, James Means.

The Committee on Permanent Organization reported the following officers for the Convention:

Chairman—H. B. McCurry.

Vice Presidents—W. B. Andrews and W. A. McLaughlin.

Secretary—Samuel A. Steel.

The report was adopted.

Mr. McCurry took the chair and addressed the Convention briefly.

Mr. Frethy moved that the Convention endorse the nomination of Andrew Burt for Congress. Adopted.

On motion of P. H. Higgins, a Committee of Conference, consisting of five members, was appointed by the Chair to meet with a similar committee from the Democratic Convention, (in session in an adjoining room,) with the view of nominating a fusion ticket for the various county offices. The motion prevailed, and the following gentlemen comprise the committee: Messrs. A. Jacquay, P. J. Higgins, Daniel Coyle, E. A. Frethy and H. J. Howe.

The Convention, on motion of E. A. Frethy, adjourned till one o'clock, for the purpose of giving the committee an opportunity to consult.

AFTERNOON SESSION—REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE.

The Convention re-assembled pursuant to adjournment and was called to order by the Chairman, Mr. McCurry, who directed the Secretary to call the roll of delegates.

Mr. P. I. Higgins, Chairman of the Committee on Conference, submitted the following report:

"Your Committee on Conference deem it advisable to nominate but three members of Assembly, County Commissioner and Surveyor, inasmuch as our Democratic friends have endorsed the nomination of Andrew Burt for Congress.

"The Committee recommend that the Joint Committee on Conference be empowered to report a full ticket for the ratification of both Conventions."

On motion of Mr. Frethy the report was adopted.

Mr. E. A. Frethy, Chairman of the Committee on Resolutions, stated that as there were no local issues the Committee had adopted the resolutions of the National Labor Reform Convention held at New York city, and submitted them for the action of the Convention, viz:

WHEREAS, The right to labor and its reward is self-evident; and whereas the excess or want of work is a fruitful source of ignorance, disease and crime, and whereas the tendency of legislation and monopoly is to restrict the freedom, cripple the energies, and purloin the earnings of industry; therefore,

Resolved, That the producing classes, agricultural, mining, mechanical, intellectual and moral, are the most important portion of all communities; and that distributors, financiers and statesmen, together with their aids, civil and military, are of secondary consequence, being simply created of the former to disseminate wealth, maintain order, conserve justice, and keep intact the integrity of the nation.

Resolved, That the national honor must be preserved by paying its debts in good faith, and that every debt of the Government not specially contracted to be paid in coin should be paid in the lawful currency of the United States; that the bonds when redeemable, should be paid in legal-tender notes, or exchanged for other bonds at three per cent., convertible into lawful money, at the pleasure of the holder.

Resolved, That the public interest demands the withdrawal of the circulating notes of the national banks, and the substitution of the legal-tender Treasury certificates in their stead.

Resolved, That no more of the public domain should be granted to any corporation, under any pretext whatever, and all the lands not disposed of should be withdrawn from the market and granted only in small quantities to actual settlers.

Resolved, That we return our thanks to the majorities in Congress and in such State Legislatures as have in their wisdom deemed it right and proper to pass the Eight-Hour Law; and we call upon the proper authorities in the United States and the States above mentioned to show their respect for the same by enforcing its demand.

Resolved, That the low wages, long hours, and damaging service to which multitudes of working girls and women are doomed, destroy health, imperil virtue, and are a standing reproach to civilization; that we would urge them to learn trades, engage in business, join our labor Unions, or use any other honorable means to persuade or force men to render unto every woman according to her works.

Resolved, That we urge upon the industrial class in every Congressional and State district county, city or town, to press these principles upon the public notice, and to support no man for Congress, for any State Legislature, or any other office of profit or trust, who is not fully pledged to their support.

On motion the report was accepted and the resolutions adopted.

On motion of Mr. Frethy, the Convention proceeded to nominate the candidates alloted by the Conference Committee.

Mr. Frethy moved that the nominations be conducted by marking, Adopted.

The following names were suggested for candidates:

Assembly—Messrs. A. Frethy, City, Nicholas Hoge, H. B. McGinty, W. W. Alexander, Samuel McKean.

Commissioner—Jas. R. Jackson, McKeesport, James McCleary, Braddocks.

Surveyor—Sigsmund Lowe, City.

Mr. Frethy moved that a majority of the votes cast be requisite to make a nomination. The motion was adopted by a vote of 18 to 5.

On motion, it was resolved that in districts where delegates were elected and there was only one present, that the member present should vote for his colleague.

The Convention then proceeded to mark for candidates, with the following result;

Assembly—B. A. McGinty, 34; Edward Frethy, 37; Nicholas Hays, 19; W. W. Alexander, 32; Samuel McCain, 12.

Commissioner—Joseph R. Jackson, 19; James McCleary, 25.

Surveyor—Sigismund Leow, 35.

On motion of Patrick Graham, the nominees were declared the unanimous choice of the Convention.

Mr. Higgens moved that the Convention take a recess until the Democratic Convention finished its business. Adopted.

Adjourned.

The Convention re-assembled, pursuant to adjournment, to hear from the Committee of Conference the action of the Democratic Convention.

The report of the committee was read and on motion was accepted and the nominations endorsed.

The Democratic Convention was then invited into the room to hear Mr. Burt, the candidate for Congress, address the Convention.

Mr. Burt was called upon and made an out-and-out Democratic speech. He apparently ignored the twenty-four men who composed the Labor Reform Convention, for whose conciliation he had been placed upon the ticket, and plunged head and heels into a Democratic argument of the Jeff. Davis-Vallandigham character. It is evident to all who heard him that he has been training in that school for some time, as he has taken to the policy of his new friends like a young duck to water.

Mr. Bruce, the candidate for District Attorney, was next called upon, and responded in his usual good natured style. He said that he had come into the room not to speak but to hear Mr. Burt, expecting to hear an able argument in behalf of the Labor Reform movement, but he must confess that he was agreeably disappointed, for, instead of a Labor Reform speech, Mr. Burt had made a straight out Democratic speech.

At the conclusion of Mr. Bruce's remarks the Convention adjourned.

Most Bitters of the present day that are loudly puffed through the newspapers as having great curative properties are vile compounds and base impositions, containing no medicinal virtues whatever, and are really very poor whisky beverages, and, instead of acting as a stimulant and tonic, have a tendency to weaken the stomach by entirely destroying the coating. The public should therefore be very cautious and purchase none but Roback's Stomach Bitters, which have stood the test as a remedial agent for many years, and are really as their name indicates, a stomach bitters and not a beverage. They combine the properties of the best tonic and a stimulant—a laxative, an efficient and anti-bilious agent and the best stomachic known to the world, and when taken in conjunction with Roback's Blood Pills, are the safest and surest preventive against all bilious derangements, thoroughly regulating the whole system and giving tone to the digestive organs.

They are highly recommended as an invigorating tonic to mothers while nursing, increasing the flow of milk, and for convalescents, to restore the prostration which always follows long-continued sickness, they are unsurpassed. No household should consider themselves safe from the ordinary maladies without these invaluable medicines. They can be obtained of any druggist. TTSF
